

TOWN BANS FOR CHARITY TEAMS

By Lisa O'Brien

CHUGGERS have been banned from Cannock and Rugeley for five days a week – and will be fined for breaking the rules.

Council bosses want to restrict the numbers of fundraisers working in town centre streets at any one time.

It comes after complaints flooded in about people feeling pressured on the spot to sign up to donate money, which has seen them being nicknamed chuggers or charity muggers.

Cannock Chase Council is working with the Public Fundraising Regulatory Association to manage collections in town centres. Chuggers will be able to work for two days Monday to Thursday, but the council will decide on times, places and numbers of fundraisers allowed.

Anyone breaching the rules will be issued with penalty points which will stack up and turn into financial penalties for repeat offenders. Under the scheme, chuggers will be banned from the area around Littleton Court, Cannock, and the war memorial in Cannock town centre.

They would also be barred from coming to the town on Fridays and Saturdays when only traditional 'tin-shakers' will be allowed. The paid fundraisers will be restricted to four in number.

Payments

They will be allowed only on the pedestrianised area of Market Square, between Market Place and Church Street, Market Hall Street between Market Place and 16 Market Hall Street, and High Green between Market Place and Manor Avenue in Cannock.

In Rugeley, no more than two fundraisers can work in the town at the same time.

The ban will apply only to paid charity workers who ask people to commit to direct-debit payments, not to traditional cash collections by volunteers shaking tins.

District bosses say their hands have been tied by outdated legislation. However, they approached the Public Fundraising Regulatory Association to take action on their behalf against the opportunist collectors.

Under the PFRA's penalty and compliance regime, infringements of the rules attract penalties of 20, 50 or 100 points, depending on the seriousness of the rule breach.

Once the points total reaches a 1,000 threshold, the points are then converted into a financial fine at the rate of £1 per point.

Tony McGovern, managing director for Cannock Chase Council, said: "The council is working closely with the Public Fundraising Regulatory Association to ensure that this kind of activity in the district is regulated properly and the public are protected from any aggressive fundraising."

Anyone who is concerned about charity fundraising in the district should contact the council on 01543 462621.

GAVIN DIGS DEEP IN DRIVE TO RAISE FUNDS

Gavin Elson in the soft play area which needs money spending on it, with Millie Elson, aged five, Poppy Elson, two, and Alej Tunas, six

A DIGGER driver is taking on a 874-mile road journey for charity the way he knows best – at the wheel of his mechanical earth mover. Gavin Elson wants to raise money for the adventure playground in Cannock which his children attend, and hit on this novel way to do it.

The project is still at the planning stage and he is currently talking to plant hire firms about sponsorship. He will also have to modify his chosen vehicle to hit speeds of around 40mph, as the average model generally moves at a 20-25mph snail pace. He is hoping to complete the epic journey in 22 hours and earn a place in The Guinness Book of Records.

A time of 22 hours, 10 minutes and 30 seconds over the distance was notched up in 1997 for the television programme Record Breakers.

Gavin, aged 29, of Lilac Avenue, Cannock, said: "I've been a digger driver for about 10 years and it's the best job in the world. When I was thinking of what I could do to help the playground, this just popped into my head."

The father-of-two will be raising money for the Special Needs Adventure Playground (SNAP) in Pye Green Road, one of only a handful of its kind in the country.

The centre, opened in 2003 and designed specifically for children with special needs, has outdoor adventure play equipment including an aerial runway, cycle track with specially adapted bikes, a sand pit, indoor soft play area, craft room and a multi-sensory room. It also has a roundabout which accommodates wheelchairs.

The popular playground attracts visits from well beyond the county but as a charity it needs £60,000 a year to function.

Shoppers to help shape photo collection

Gwendolen Whitaker

SHOPPERS in Cannock can put forward their views on plans to digitise hundreds of thousands of photographs. The project will digitise images, which date back more than a century, to make them freely available online, where the public can view images documenting the region's history. A not-for-profit partnership has been set up by the Chronicle's sister paper, the Express & Star, and WAVE, where the galleries, museums and archives of Wolverhampton was awarded development funding of £59,800 from the Lottery board last year. Tricolor is using part of the funding to draw up plans on how the digitised photographs could be used by as many people as possible. It has described the collection as 'a 100-year time capsule for the region'. Gwendolen Whitaker, consultant and activity planning leader for Tricolor, has said taking part in the consultation will help them shape the project and reflect what local people really want. They are asking for people at supermarkets in the region – including Morrisons in Mill Street, Cannock, on August 29 – to give their opinions. The group working on the project would like to know which topics interest people most so they can prioritise the initial work. An online survey is being conducted to see if readers are most interested in photographs of local personalities, sport, war, buildings and landmarks or crime and punishment. The closing date for completed surveys is tomorrow. Tricolor director Frank Crosby said: "We are absolutely delighted to be part of this project after a tender appointment process. It represents real people and authentic aspects of their life."

Arriva hits the road to explain bus shake-up

ARRIVA Midlands will be holding a number of roadshow events to explain changes it is making to its bus services in the Cannock Chase area next month.

Timetables, route maps and bus guides will be available from the company's promotions team who will be answering queries relating to the shake-up. Among the changes being introduced from Saturday, September 5 are a new service to Bevan Lee Estate; quicker links between Cannock and Wolverhampton; new links to the Orbital Centre; and an improved evening service between Cannock and Penkridge. Arriva says it is also improving the number X68, which will call at Cannock bus station, and introducing a better evening and Sunday service between Stafford and Penkridge. Last month, the Chronicle reported on fears that changes to bus routes in Cannock Chase would leave people at risk of not being able to access health services.

Collect

The promotions team will be at Cannock Shopping Centre near the Argos/bus station entrance on Monday, August 24, from 8.30 to 2pm; in Market Square, Stafford, on Tuesday, August 25 between 8.30am and 2pm; at Lichfield bus station, stand8 on Thursday, August 27, from 8.30am to 11am, then at Burntwood Library the same day from midday to 3pm; and in Brook Square, Rugeley, on Friday, August 28, from 8.30am to midday. Anyone who is unable to get to any of the event will be able to collect the new timetables, route maps and bus guides from local libraries, tourist information centres, some council offices, the Travel Shops at Walsall and Wolverhampton bus stations, at arrivabus.co.uk and traveling on 0871 200 22 33. Dan Flanagan, Arriva's local manager, said: "We've given the network of local bus services a makeover introducing a raft of new links, quicker journey times, improved frequencies and making sure journeys are punctual. "We're holding a number of roadshow events where you can pick up your new timetable leaflet and our promotions team will be on hand to assist with any questions relating to the new bus routes and times."

Vandals attack skate park again

'Living hell' – one of the vandalised skate ramps behind the old Burntwood Youth Centre

A POPULAR skate park in Burntwood has been vandalised again. Sections underneath a ramp at the site off Cherry Close were bricked up by Staffordshire County Council last month but have since been smashed down. Residents living nearby claim the park is a hotspot for anti-social behaviour, including drug taking. Councillor Susan Woodward blamed the problems on the county council's decision to close youth services. The skate park is at the back of the former Burntwood Youth Centre, which closed. She said: "Anti-social behaviour in the area is growing. "Residents have been subjected to a lot of litter and noise nuisance when people gather there." One neighbour, who did not want to be named, said: "The younger kids enjoy the park during the day but older people turn up there around 10pm until the early hours. "It wasn't that long ago parents got together to clean up broken glass from there and the bricks were added since as kids used to make fires under the ramps. It's a living hell to live next to it." Neighbour Melanie Plant said: "The kids round here need better facilities. It all needs revamping. A lot of it is worn away and not safe." Councillor Woodward now plans to ask the council about plans for the future of the youth centre. "When the centre was open and providing activities, the site was self-policing," she said.

New goals as Comyn nets a role at college

A FORMER Hednesford Town player has a new role in education. Andy Comyn, who started out in Manchester United's youth team, has signed for Dudley College as its new vice-principal for financial strategy and control. The 47-year-old started his career in professional football with Aston Villa after completing a physics degree at Birmingham University. He also enjoyed spells at Derby County, Plymouth Argyle and West Bromwich Albion, but studied a book-keeping course during his playing days to ensure there was life after football. Albion offered him a contract in 1996, but he instead moved to Hednesford Town – where he was able to balance playing football and working as an accountant in Walsall. In addition to his career in finance, Mr Comyn has also enjoyed a five-year spell as a governor at Halesowen College. He said: "It's great to be here and part of such an ambitious, dynamic forward-thinking organisation. "I've already seen how committed and passionate the staff are at the college." Mr Comyn replaces Gary Turton, the college's former executive director of finance, who left in July after seven years.

Ironman places sell out in hours

PLACES for next year's Staffordshire Ironman sold out within hours, following the success of this year's event. The individual spots worth £235 each were all snapped up but there are still charity places available. The county's inaugural event in June this year saw more than 2,000 people including the likes of celebrity chef Gordon Ramsey take on the gruelling triathlon. Competitors followed a route through Chasewater, Cannock Chase and the Shugborough Estate as they completed the 1.2-mile swim, 56-mile bike ride and 13.1-mile half marathon. Kevin Stewart, managing director of Ironman UK and Ireland, said: "The Staffordshire race continues to capture the imagination of existing athletes and first timers."

Simone to Brave the Shave for Macmillan

A HEDNESFORD woman will Brave the Shave on Saturday to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support.

Simone Rowlings will be having her head shaved at Carter's Barbers & Male Grooming Room in Belt Road, Hednesford, from midday onwards. "I lost my dad and auntie to cancer and my mom and sister are breast cancer soldiers who have won the battle," Simone said.

"I feel I should do this to honour them for their bravery."

"I will be donating my hair to McMillan for children's wigs." The 34-year-old mother of two boys and twin girls says she is going through with the stunt as she and her family would not have coped without the support of McMillan nurses.

"Without continued fundraising, McMillan would not be able to reach out and help so many families as they did for mine," she added.

Carter's Barbers & Male Grooming Room was opened in a former florists shop last month by former care home manager Adam Preece.

Simone said: "Please could everyone who is able to come along and watch, support and donate for my Brave the Shave. There will be cakes and refreshments. All proceeds from the sale of cakes and refreshments will be donated to McMillan."

Slaughterhouse site housing bid

PLANS for 10 houses to be built on the site of a former slaughterhouse and butchers shop in Burntwood High Street have been submitted.

The plans are recommended for approval by Lichfield District Council.

Fans' relief as Pitmen toilets repaired

Keith Harley outside the toilet block

SEVERAL years ago one of Hednesford Town's toilet blocks was put out of use when it was badly vandalised.

The police had nothing to go on . . . and nor did the team's supporters. The toilets were completely unusable. So, the plan to reopen the facility was identified as a long-term project by the club's supporters.

Through money saved from the Pitmen Prize Draw – part of the Hednesford Town Football Club Supporters' Association (HTFCSA) – the group have spent more than £600 paying for repairs.

Thanks to Andy and Mandy Stokes for cleaning the interior and the stalwart group who painted the exterior, the toilets are, once again, open for business.

HTFCSA chairman Scott Smith said: "It was something which had been identified as being a benefit to all supporters, particularly those on the Wimblesbury Terrace who were having to walk all the way around to the other side of the ground to use facilities."

"Thanks to the funds raised through the Pitmen Prize Draw and the hard work of supporters we have been able to bring the toilet block back into fully working use with disabled facilities also been supplied."

Keith Harley, chairman of the Prize Draw, said: "I was delighted to hand over a cheque to fund such an important improvement for the benefit of all supporters.

"We want more supporters to join us to help promote and develop other aspects of the club.

"Contact myself or any member of the Supporters' Association if you would like to help."

Students jumping for joy at A-level results

THERE were jubilant scenes across Staffordshire as students celebrated A-level success.

Two years' hard work paid off for thousands of students, contributing to some schools and colleges recording their best ever results. The overall pass rate across the West Midlands rose by 0.3 per cent this year to 98.1 per cent.

At Staffordshire University Academy, in Hednesford, 57 per cent of students achieved the grades required to head off to the university of their choice. Tom Light, head of sixth form, said: "We are extremely proud of our students and the results they have achieved."

Great Wyrley High School celebrated another 'very positive' year of A2, AS level and vocational achievement with 25 per cent of exam entries achieving A*-B grades.

Most departments again reported a 100 per cent pass rate, and the overall point score per student was ahead of the school's targets.

Among the high achievers were Emily Jones, Dominic Green, Lauren Moseley, Amy Westwood, Molly Aston, Emma Chaplin-Payne, Emily Large and Annie Sutton. Headteacher Chris Leach praised the ability and resilience of the young people and the huge support they receive from their families and school staff.

Challenges

In Lichfield, Year 13 students at the Friary School have been celebrating 'excellent' A-level results. Seventy six per cent of all entries received grade C or higher – the highest figure in the school's history. A number of students achieved very impressive grades, such as Louisa Bebb, Emily Townsend, Rudi Hood, Robert Williamsand Callum Steventon.

Headteacher David Lister said: 'I am very proud of our students. It is great to see young people enjoying deserved reward for their dedication and looking forward excitedly to further challenges and opportunities.'

Sixth form students at Lichfield Cathedral School are also celebrating their results, which were again an improvement on the previous year's results.

Headteacher Susan Hannam said: "Once again we are delighted with the achievements of our students and there have been some exceptional results.

"Many students gained top grades across the board and are now progressing to the university course of their choice. That 54 per cent of all grades were A* to B is to be celebrated along with our continued 100 per cent pass rate."

Delighted – results at Lichfield Cathedral School were again an improvement on the previous year's achievements, with many students gaining top grades across the board

NEWS IN BRIEF

Homes plan halved following concerns

THE size of a housing development planned for Little Haywood has been almost halved following a public backlash.

Les Stephen Planning has submitted proposals for 65 homes off Main Road. Originally, the site was earmarked for 115 homes.

But residents were overwhelmingly opposed to the scheme when the project was unveiled at a public exhibition earlier this year. They expressed concerns over increased traffic and a worry that it would merge the village with Upper Haywood.

Plans are to go before council

PLANNING applications received by Lichfield District Council include:

Garage Court South, 35-37 Harvey Road, Handsacre – erection of two three-bedroom dwellings and associated works.

67 Redwood Drive, Burntwood – two-storey side extension to form office and bedroom with en suite.

Cregnebar, Hollow Lane, Colton – single and first-floor extensions and alterations to form lounge, porch and en suite.

Comments must be received by August 31.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

IN the United States (where else?) lawyers acting for comedians and comedy writers are threatening to claim damages against people who nick jokes from Twitter and other sources and then recycle them as their own. But is there any such thing as a genuinely original joke? According to showbiz legend there are only seven basic jokes; all the others are merely variations. (To which the tried, trusted and essentially British response is: I'm expecting a number two today).

MEANWHILE, as the Edinburgh Festival and Fringe is under way, and dozens of new comedians have nightmares about how their audiences may or may not react, they should take comfort and remember that being a comedian is the easiest of all jobs because, if it goes horribly wrong, at least no-one will laugh at you.

THE death is announced, at the age of 101, of Frances Kelsey. Her claim to fame is that in 1960, working for the US Food and Drugs Administration (FDA), she was asked to review an application from a US company to make under licence a sedative invented in Germany. Kelsey was not convinced it was safe. The company put pressure on FDA officials who in turn put Kelsey under pressure. She would not give in, even when the company threatened to sue the FDA for libel. And then, as she had feared, reports began coming from Europe of children born with terrible defects. The new drug was called Thalidomide and Frances Kelsey was the woman who saved America from the agony and anguish which this drug created in the rest of the world.

ALL eyes are on Benedict Cumberbatch playing Hamlet at the Barbican in London. The play's most famous line is "To be or not to be..." But there is another great line. Polonius says: "This above all: to thine own self be true." The line has been discussed for 400 years and is usually presented as a trite or meaningless tip from a bit of an old duffer. And yet it contains a gem of truth. If you believe something to be wrong, don't let anyone browbeat you into thinking it's right. Frances Kelsey was true to herself, and millions of Americans bless her name.

ANYBODY else puzzled by the use of the term "bail out" to describe the EU supporting the Greek economy? You bail out when a boat is sinking; the aim to remove as much water as possible. In the Greek crisis, the EU is trying to pour as much money as necessary into the Greek treasury. It's not so much a bail-out as a bail-in.

TAUTOLOGY corner. I referred recently to "generations who could do mental arithmetic in their head." As a number of you have pointed out, where else would they do it?

Summer ball raises £2,422 for charity

A POPULAR Cannock venue raised £2,422 for the Hibbs Lupus Trust through its annual charity summer ball.

The Premier Suite at Bar Sport, which nominates a charity each year for which to raise funds, this year chose the Hednesford-based cause.

The back tie event, which included a sumptuous six-course meal, was held last month and included the

Marks Brothers and Bruno Mars Show as well as top comedian Ollly Spencer.

The Hibbs Lupus Trust was set up in 2008 after Viki Hibbs was diagnosed with Lupus, which is an autoimmune disease.

It causes the body's defence system to produce antibodies that attack the body's tissues causing inflammation. The charity is now raising funds so more extensive research can be carried out into the condition.

Scott Murray, owner of Bar Sport and The Premier Suite, said: "We wanted to support The Hibbs Lupus Trust because it is such a fantastic charity set up by a local family.

"The annual summer ball was a fantastic night and I am delighted to hand over a cheque for £2,422."

John Hibbs, husband of Viki and chairman of the Hibbs Lupus Trust, said: "Following The Premier Suite's superb summer ball, we wanted to say thank you for their generous donation after selecting The Hibbs Lupus Trust as their chosen charity.

"The evening was absolutely fantastic, and I would like to say a big thank you to Scott Murray and Bar Sport and the Premier Suite team," he added.

Pilot's bulky clothing clue to crash landing

By Adam Burling

A PILOT'S bulky clothes could have caused a crash landing in Penkridge which seriously damaged an aircraft, an investigation has found.

Both the pilot and passenger were unhurt in the crash landing at Otherton Airfield. The Kolb Twinstar aircraft, owned by Alexander Crowley of Walsall, crashed on March 10.

The Air Accident Investigation Branch report says the 27-year-old pilot had 153 hours' flying experience. But it reveals that the pilot's clothing could have caused problems with some of the aircraft's equipment and contributed to the crash.

It states: "Following departure from Runway 25 at Otherton Airfield, the pilot encountered a control restriction in pitch during a shallow left turn at approximately 450ft. The aircraft began to descend and altitude could not be maintained.

"The pilot initiated a forced landing but during the latter stages of the approach, the left wheel struck a wooden post. The pilot and passenger were uninjured.

Effect

"The pilot reported that he had performed a control check prior to take-off, with no anomalies and the restriction was no longer apparent after the forced landing. The aircraft was examined by the Light Aircraft Association (LAA), who concluded that the control restriction was probably caused by excess slack in the elevator control cables.

"Bulky clothing may have exacerbated the effect by pushing a turnbuckle into the side of the boom."

Owners of all aircraft of this type are now to be contacted and warned of the danger of clothing worn by occupants affecting the controls.

It comes days after an investigation into a separate crash in Shifnal found a pilot had already aborted two attempts to land. His third attempt ended in a crash landing. It said the 58-year-old pilot had flown from Abbots Bromley Airfield where the aircraft was based to Shifnal.

Tragedy inspires sisters' bike ride

Ellen Williams, left, and sister Hannah Williams cycled to Bristol in memory of their cousin Rowan Pollard

IT was a family affair when sisters Ellen and Hannah Williams cycled to Bristol in memory of their cousin who died from breast cancer. The pair, from Burntwood, are raising cash for Cancer Research through a series of sponsored challenges.

Their tests of endurance have already raised £7,500 but their latest feat got off to a bad start when the girls got lost.

They also found the going tough riding mountain bikes on the road. Ellen, a 29-year-old PhD student, said: "We got lost en route around Droitwich when the cycle trail signs just disappeared, which made me a bit cross. We lost so much time trying to find the way that we had to get a lift for a few miles to get us to where we had to be."

The sisters' cousin Rowan Pollard died in 2012 aged 43. They chose Bristol as their destination because it is the home of Rowan's father who met them after a 20-mile trek from Gloucester. Rowan, a careers adviser and mother of two, lived in Cornwall.

Ellen, who studies at Nottingham Trent University, and 26-year-old Hannah, a countryside management student at Harper Adams University, hope to raise £10,000.

£3k grants available for ideas on safety

UP to £3,000 is available in grants for community groups to make neighbourhoods safer as part of a £500,000 scheme run by Staffordshire Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

Applications for grants of between £100 and £3,000 are now open before closing on Monday, September 14.

Mr Ellis said: "I have significantly increased the funding that local areas in Staffordshire have to make their communities safer.

"The Commissioner's People Power Fund puts half a million pounds back into local communities and is easy and simple to apply for.

"It's about local ideas to sort out local issues like anti-social behaviour.

"If you've got a good idea, the People Power Fund may be able to help you achieve it.

"If you're a community group with good ideas to cut crime or make your area safer go to the website now to find out more."

Applications need to be sponsored by the group's neighbourhood police officer or PCSO and will initially be assessed by the local Community Safety Partnership.

The People Power Fund is one part of £2.5 million of Commissioner's Community Funding for 2015-16.

The Commissioner's Proceeds of Crime Fund is seeing 100 per cent of funding received by Staffordshire Police going back into local communities, through grants of between £3,000 and £15,000.

Thousands take part in reading challenge

THOUSANDS of youngsters in Staffordshire have taken part in a summer reading challenge.

Almost 14,000 bookworms signed up for Record Breakers in the first three weeks.

Taking place in libraries across the county, the challenge is aimed at four to 11-year-olds, and the initiative has seen more than 800,000 children take part nationwide.

Now in its 17th year, the popular reading scheme encourages children to read six or more library books during the summer holidays, for which they receive a certificate and medal.

The Reading Agency, the organisers behind this year's challenge, tried to set a new Guinness World Record for the most pledges received for a reading campaign. A total of 100,000 pledges were needed for the new record, but the pledges received nationally did not hit the target.

However, Staffordshire libraries gathered almost 3,000 pledges, and county councillor Mike Lawrence said: "Once again Staffordshire residents have risen to the challenge and done us proud. It was a great effort from our staff, volunteers, lead witnesses, and all involved."

"We may not have set a new record but we did succeed in drawing more children into the library and getting families excited about reading in a spectacular way. We couldn't have wished for a better start to the summer in the county's libraries."

Plea to consider the neighbours

RESIDENTS are being warned against rowdy late night behaviour as part of a summer police crackdown.

Officers at Staffordshire Police are urging people to be considerate and tolerant to their neighbours as part of the Respect campaign.

Chief Supt Jeff Moore said: "We can be inundated by reports of neighbours being rowdy and inconsiderate, whether partying in their gardens or coming home after a night out."

"Having friends round for a barbecue/party in your garden is great fun but as people drink more alcohol they become noisier and have music playing loudly, often late into the evening. We would ask that while you may be enjoying yourself, try to be considerate to those in your community."

Birds of prey at family fun day

THE Red Lion in Brereton is holding a family fun day from midday on August 31 to raise money for the Midland Freewheelers blood bikes team.

Attractions include a playbus, live music, and birds of prey.

Back down to earth in wake of election

Aidan Burley

WERE they in the House of Commons, they would be on holiday or in their constituencies for the long summer recess.

Instead it's back to the day job for the candidates who either failed to win a seat in Parliament, or the former MPs who stood down.

Aidan Burley, who used to represent Cannock Chase, is now the director of The Great British Beard Company, based in Birmingham. It does not have any online presence yet but documents lodged with Companies House show the 36-year-old set it up in January and gave his occupation at the time as MP.

It is not known what the company will do but it may well have been inspired by Mr

Burley's own facial hair – something he had begun sporting in the final year of his term.

He stood down following criticism over his attendance at a stag party in the French Alps in 2011 where the bridegroom wore a Nazi uniform. Despite this, a Twitter storm in which he labelled the Olympic opening ceremony 'leftie multicultural crap' and a final Commons speech in which he told how his wife and office manager had dealt with the 'rudest' constituents, the Tories increased their majority with new MP Amanda Milling.

Stafford Labour candidate Kate Godfrey had tried to unseat Conservative Jeremy Le-froy, but he saw his majority increased. The campaign had focussed on the town's hospital. Miss Godfrey now works for a health policy firm in London. At weekends she is going to study to become a barrister. She said: "It was a steep learning curve in the campaign."

Walsall North was a Labour seat with a slender majority. And while long-serving MP David Winnick increased his majority, it was not for lack of effort by the Conservative candidate Douglas Hansen Luke.

The 45-year-old businessman has not given up his dream of becoming an MP.

He said: "I certainly got the bug so will definitely stand again. I just need to find a place that'll vote for a hard working candidate."

MP's wife at centre of 'rudeness' storm is back

THE voters of Cannock might be forgiven for thinking they had seen the last of former councillor Jodie Jones after her husband ex-MP Aidan Burley stood down from office in May.

Mr Burley famously hit out at local people in his final Commons speech, thanking his wife, who worked as his office manager, for dealing with 'often the rudest and most awkward constituents' with 'quiet dignity and poise'.

But it has emerged that Ms Jones is back in her former role, taking calls from constituents in the employ of newly elected Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson has hit out at her appointment, saying it was 'hypocritical' of her to take the job in the circumstances.

Councillor Adamson said: "I was very surprised to see her back in Cannock mixing with such 'rude' people."

"Eyebrows were raised, and not just in the Labour ranks. Let's say it smacks of double standards."

"At the very least, you wonder how she can do her job properly given how her husband described the people who came them for help."

Mr Burley, who was once a rising star in David Cameron's Conservatives, stood down from the Commons after a single term.

Ms Jones's new boss said that the former councillor's role was 'a temporary arrangement' only, while she found her feet in her new constituency.

Ms Milling said: "It was the right thing for the constituency that she stayed on in her role as office manager during the transition period."

"It has enabled a seamless transfer and helped me get up and running."

Tory group leader Paul Snape said: "I didn't know she was back but as far as I'm concerned, let bygones be bygones. I've moved on, and I hope others have too," he added.

Cat feline fine after going fur a ride

Darcy survived a 150-mile car journey after getting stuck in the engine compartment of a Mercedes Benz

A CAT survived a 150-mile round trip from Cannock to Manchester stuck in a car engine compartment after getting out of the rain.

Darcy is thought to have hidden in the Mercedes Benz and become stuck under the bonnet.

The car's owner saw an engine warning light flashing on the dashboard and staff at Fix Auto in Lichfield could not spot any signs of engine trouble. However, after a test drive, they noticed a burning smell, so they opened the bonnet and found fur wrapped around the alternator – and two eyes staring up at them. The RSPCA helped rescue the four-year-old animal.

Darcy's owner, Christine Evans, of Lupin Drive, Cannock, said: "We think he took shelter under a car when it was raining."

"I spoke to the owner of the car, who is a neighbour, and she said she had driven to Manchester and back that day. Darcy is absolutely fine other than he's got a bald patch on his tail."

Lee Langley, the technician who discovered Darcy, said: "We immediately brought the car in after the owner reported a problem."

That was just before close on a Saturday afternoon and we didn't look at it until first thing on the Monday. We discovered him buried deep within the engine bay.

He was so close to various moving parts, it's a miracle he survived."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ex-champion sets up his own gym

YOUNGSTERS can get fighting tips from a former world and European kickboxing champion. Chris Bladon, of Burntwood, has launched his own gym at Toll Point Industrial Estate, in Lichfield Road, Brownhills.

The 30-year-old engineer, an ex-World Karate Organisation (WKO) and English Wado-ryu Sport Karate Association (EWSKA) champion, has been participating in martial arts since the age of five and is now teaching children from the same age.

For more details, contact Chris by calling 07976 371681.

More rooms bid by theme park

ALTON Towers is pressing ahead with plans to provide more rooms for short-stay visitors, creating 100 jobs.

The move comes despite a fall in the number of visitors in the wake of June's rollercoaster accident which left four people seriously injured.

It has submitted plans to build a four-storey extension to the Alton Towers Hotel and Spa that will provide 74 'colonial-style' family rooms and a 200-seat restaurant and cafe.

In the wake of the accident, £47 million was wiped from the profits of owners Merlin Entertainments.

Drivers to share in anniversary

ATS Euromaster in Cannock is inviting people to share in the firm's 50th birthday celebrations.

The company is giving away 50,000 gifts to retail customers who spend £15 in August.

Cannock centre manager Mark Cox is also offering motorists the opportunity to take up a summer inspection and top-up service for £19.65 – a nod to the year in which the company was founded. "Turning fifty is quite a milestone," he said.

Motorists warned of closures on the M6

DRIVERS are warned of delays on the M6 during overnight closures until the end of October.

Two lanes will be closed on the M6 northbound between junctions 10 for Walsall and Wolverhampton and junction 11 for Cannock.

The closures will be in place from 9.30pm until 6am until October 30, while Highways England carries out resurfacing works.

Diversion routes will be clearly signposted.

Route for Ramblers

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

Another fine name with Stan and Olly

WHO would have thought it? Far from being the bumbling, slapstick figures of fun portrayed in their films, they were also trendsetters, way ahead of their time. According to the Office of National Statistics, Oliver and Stanley are among the most popular names for boys today, with Elsie and Ivy making a comeback for girls. Now I knew Oliver had been popular for a while, but I thought the others had died out long ago.

Seth, popularised by the old rogue in Emmerdale Farm, also makes the top 100, as does Finlay, the doctor with the rather large casebook. And who, a few years ago, would have thought Austin, Albert and Frederick would be the monikers of choice for trendy parents?

Strangest of all, though, is that the biggest gainers are Ellis and Jackson, which make the top 100 for the first time in history. Look, I'm know I'm not terribly well up in these things, but aren't they supposed to be surnames?

■ ■ ■ ■ ■

NOBODY goes to hospital if they can avoid it. As fun destinations go, the average hospital ward ranks some way below Blackpool during the stag party season and the dole office on a Monday morning.

People have to visit hospitals either because they are unwell themselves, or to visit sick loved ones. Yet despite this, or maybe because of it, hospitals in the Black Country are charging visitors up to £2.60 an hour to use their car parks.

Imagine you have a seriously ill relative, and spend three-to-four hours a day visiting them. Isn't that traumatic enough, without paying more than £50 a week for the privilege? And then, of course, you will be charged for an extra hour because of the absurd queue at the paypoint when visiting time finishes. This is exactly what a man queuing at the pay station told me he was having to do while his wife was in hospital.

It is outrageous enough that councils charge shoppers to use the car parks we already own, but at least we can take our custom elsewhere. Hospitals, though, have a captive market, and they know it.

STAYING on the subject, Dudley town centre traders have hit out at the £6.5 million revamp of the market place, saying the money would have been better spent providing car parking. And in matters completely unconnected, Rex Johnson the jeweller is leaving town after more than 40 years.

Meanwhile in Wolverhampton, E Marsh furniture store has moved out of the city centre after more than a century because of the pedestrianisation frenzy gripping the city. Still what do they know? They're only traders, and they haven't yet bought into the local government vision of vast hordes flocking to our shop-free towns to admire the block paving.

Jeff Bezos started Amazon with two members of staff

The Tower Business Park site opened in 2011

The Top Gear team has signed a deal with Amazon

Amazon's amazing 20 years of growth

CARL JACKSON reports on a business success story that began with creating a company that aimed to 'sell everything'

TWENTY years ago Jeff Bezos quit his high flying Wall Street job to run an online bookshop from his garage in Seattle. Its name? Amazon.

Fast-forward two decades and Amazon has completely transformed the way in which we shop and is up there with McDonalds and Coca-Cola as a global mega-brand.

The company started with two members of staff, including Mr Bezos's wife MacKenzie.

According to former employees, there was little stock in the early days, with books bought from distributors as and when customers ordered them. Today its global operation employs 100,000 people, with more than 278 million customer accounts worldwide.

Mr Bezo's vision, back in 1995, was to create a company that 'sold everything'.

Originally named 'Cadabra' as in 'abracadabra', he changed the name after it was often misheard as 'cadaver'. He chose Amazon to reflect his ambitions - Amazon.com launched with the tagline 'Earth's biggest book store' - and also to ensure the site near the top of alphabetical listings.

The first book purchased from the site was Douglas Hofstadter's 'Fluid Concepts And Creative Analogies: Computer Models Of The Fundamental Mechanisms Of Thought' and from then on, there was no looking back.

Twenty years on, the company has not only survived the pressures which saw many fellow internet start-ups dissolve, but it embraced them and has gone from strength to strength.

From books, it diversified into selling CDs and videos, and later toys and clothes.

The Economist credited Amazon.com with making online shopping feel safe, opening the door for everyone else.

"Typing your credit card into a web browser was once considered a sign of insanity until Amazon showed how easy and safe buying things online could be," according to an article

The 2014 festive season saw an extra 1,500 workers brought in at Rugeley to meet the rush posted in 2014 on the 20th anniversary of the retailer's incorporation. "Once people bought a book, they tried other things."

Amazon also introduced customer reviews to sit alongside its products. Previously unheard of, it is now commonplace.

Rugeley is home to the online retail giant's third biggest warehouse in the UK, employing more than 1,000 people.

And, ever expanding, the firm is now delving into other lucrative markets. Bosses have announced the major coup of signing much sought after Top Gear trio Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond and James May to front a new exclusive TV show to be screened on Amazon's online streaming service, which is going head to head with the likes of Netflix.

And the online retail giant has also approached the Government about trialling a delivery service using drones in the UK, with the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) in the United States approving Amazon's plan to begin testing drones for online deliveries, earlier this year.

The project, called Amazon Prime Air, was first revealed in a YouTube video in late 2013. Keeping up with Amazon's latest developments, new launches and additions is an almost impossible task. Its recent company history is listed in months rather than years.

But the focus on the business is still the ever-burgeoning online retail market which is good news for staff at 'fulfilment centres' like the one in Rugeley.

The Tower Business Park site opened in 2011 originally employing around 900 people but last year it announced that 330 temporary posts were being made permanent boosting the overall roster to more than 1,200.

But at peak times such as Christmas that number can more than double as it looks to meet spikes in demand. The 2014 festive season saw an extra 1,500 pairs of hands brought in to meet the rush. And as recently as June, Amazon announced it was creating 100 new temporary positions.

The Rugeley depot has also become the UK's first to open its doors and provide guided tours to visitors. Cedric Ross, senior manager of fulfilment at Amazon in the US, flew over for the launch and said: "I think it is important for our associates, and the general public, to be able to share in what we do here."

"Many people drive past places like this in their cars but may not necessarily know what is going on inside. With these tours, we can actually show people what happens inside our buildings, from start to finish."

Amazon launched its subscription-based Prime service - delivering good to people's homes within 24 hours - in 2007 and to mark its 20th anniversary and held its first ever Prime Day, which on July 15 gave its members access to thousands of knock-down discounts.

Work

Workers at Rugeley played their part in what proved to be a stunning success for the firm smashing Black Friday records with around 400 items sold per second. If all the PlayStation 4s sold during the one-day promotion were stacked on top of each other they would be seven times taller than Big Ben.

Amazon's community outreach work has ranged from donating toys to a playgroup in Colwich to injecting £5,000 to a Rugeley school for IT equipment.

County Councillor Mark Winnington, economy chief, said: "Ensuring Staffordshire people can access more good jobs and feel the benefits of economic growth remains one of the county council's top priorities."

"Amazon provides much welcome employment in the local area and we will continue our work to attract even more large businesses to the county."

Today, 20 years after selling his first book, Bezos, a father of four, has an estimated fortune of £20 billion and claims he still 'dances into the office' each day.

As for the future, the sky is (quite literally) the limit.

Couple hold the key to wedded bliss

John and Margaret Price from Cannock are celebrating their golden wedding

SHE knits while he fishes – that’s been the key to John and Margaret Price’s happy 50-year marriage.

The couple, from Cannock, say having different interests has helped their relationship to thrive over the years. Not only do they not share leisure time together, they also used to see little of each other during their working lives. Mr Price, a former maintenance worker at Littleton Colliery, worked night shifts while his wife, a maths teacher, worked days.

She said: “We were like ships that passed in the night but it’s worked very well for us over the years. When we do come together we’ve always got a lot to talk about.”

Although the pair grew up near each other in Wolverhampton, they did not meet until much later at a wedding at which John, then 20, was the best man and Margaret, 17, was a friend of the bride. They made a date to meet at the Gaumont in Snow Hill the following night but at the end of the week John went off on holiday to the Isle of Man and Margaret thought that would be the end of it. But far from it. When John returned, he got back in touch with Margaret and presented her with a ring.

She said: “It wasn’t an engagement ring or anything like that but it was a gesture on his part, and that was the start of it.”

They married at St Mary’s in Bushbury and honeymooned in Babbacombe, Devon. Fifty years on, they celebrated their golden anniversary with a holiday in Rome – a gift from their son Neil and his wife Tess.

The couple, of Wolverhampton Road, also have a daughter Helen, son-in-law Dave, and three grandchildren, Nalani, aged 11, James, 19 and Josh, 17.

Enjoyable occasion at Vesuvio

Kingswinford TWG

KINGSWINFORD Townswomen's guild met on August 10 in the community centre following apologies for absence, a quick resume was given on the progress of sick members.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read, agreed and signed. The treasurer gave her report and reminded members of the benefits to the guild of Gift Aid.

Joyce Robins read the federation report. It was agreed by all who had attended the Annual Lunch at Vesuvio that it was a very enjoyable occasion. Members were told that the 11 tickets for the Federation Harvest Luncheon were paid for, but if anyone else wished to attend it is possible that there are still places available.

That canal boat trip, with cream tea will leave The Bonded Warehouse at 2.30 on August 18. Chairman Enid Fennel checked that anyone needing transport was able to get a lift. Sally Fowler was thanked for the floral arrangement which she donated as an extra raffle prize. The prizes were won by June Baker and Sally herself. The subsections settled their next meetings and deposits were made for the Christmas Meal, which will again be held at The Lodge.

Our speaker was Fiona Lucas who gave us stories was her many exploits in foreign parts.

The next meeting, in the community centre will be our Harvest Supper. Details of the format were announced.

Highlighting FGM as a growing concern

SI Cannock & District members present letters to Amanda Milling, MP for Cannock Chase

AS the 'cutting season' approaches – the time of year when many girls are taken out of the country to undergo FGM [Female Genital Mutilation] – Soroptimists are writing to their MPs to show their concern about this horrific practice.

It is also hoped to encourage their MPs to work within Government to support any action to prevent FGM from occurring, to prosecute those who practice it, as well as to provide help and support for those who have already undergone FGM.

Amanda Milling, MP for Cannock Chase, went along to meet with members of SI Cannock & District to thank them for their letters and to assure them that she will do all in her power to keep this high on the Government's agenda.

SI Cannock & District

Soroptimists and Amanda welcomed the letter sent recently by Jane Ellison, Parliamentary under Secretary of State for Public Health, to Chief Executives of all Health Trusts. The letter reiterates the fact that FGM is illegal in the UK and this extends to cover girls taken overseas. Amanda promised to keep in touch with Soroptimists regarding the progress made in Government concerning FGM.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.' So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Gulf in fees for hospital and council car parking

HOSPITALS in Staffordshire and the Black Country are charging visitors up to six times more for an hour's parking than at their nearest public car parks.

People are being made to fork out up to £2.60 for a short stay stint at their local hospital – yet can park on a council car park for as little as 40p.

Politicians in the region have grown frustrated by spiralling hospital parking charges, leading to calls for government intervention.

At Stafford's County Hospital, visitors can park for £1.60 – 60p above council rates. Sandwell Hospital and Dudley's Russells Hall Hospital charge the most for an hour's parking at £2.60.

Council car parks in Sandwell charge 40p for an hour. In Dudley, it is 60p for an hour at a council car park. Rates at Russells Hall Hospital were raised recently from £2 by 60p.

Charges are slightly lower at Wolverhampton's New Cross Hospital, with visitors paying £2.30 for an hour.

By Richard Guttridge

But council car parks in the city centre charge as little as 60p for the same time.

Walsall Manor Hospital charges £2 for an hour. Council car parks in the town charge either £1 or £1.10 for up to two hours.

Dudley North MP Ian Austin has called on the Government to take action, and Dudley councillor Bill Etheridge said hospital parking charges were 'absolutely shameful'. The University Hospitals of North Staffordshire, which runs County Hospital, said charges were set to ensure maintaining car parks does not impact on patient care.

Cookery lessons down on the farm

Lower Drayton Farm's Natalie Cooch gets ready to cook with Amarpal Harrar of iCookIndian, Heather Cooch and Faith Clay

LOWER Drayton Farm near Penkridge has teamed up with local cookery school iCookIndian to offer cookery lessons for children and adults. The session run every Thursday up to the beginning of the new school term.

Stakes run high in Labour contest

DANIEL WAINWRIGHT
Political Editor

OH Andy, well you came and you gave without taking, but will they send you away?

For Andy Burnham, who visited Brierley Hill last weekend, the stakes are far higher in this long-running and increasingly bitter leadership contest.

Coming fourth in the 2010 election – behind even Ed Balls, who lost his own seat in Parliament five years later – he went into this bout with more to prove than the others.

But as the frontrunner when the competition opened he is also the one many would consider to have the best chance of seeing off the challenge of Jeremy Corbyn – a task that gets tougher as the left-winger soars ever higher in the opinion polls.

Damage

One of his biggest challenges, however, will be if he actually does win.

Frequently, when Ed Miliband raised the NHS at Prime Minister's Questions, David Cameron would point to the Mid-Staffordshire scandal as a way of shutting down the debate.

What happens when the former health secretary who decided against a public inquiry, fearing it would damage the trust beyond repair, addresses the PM?

The weekly question time is little more than an opportunity for grandstanding and showing off and Mr Burnham would undoubtedly fight his corner.

Tom Watson, the West Bromwich

Deputy leader hopeful Tom Watson
East MP, remains the favourite to become deputy leader of the Labour party.

But as Liz Kendall's chances of becoming Labour leader begin to resemble those of an ice cream on a barbecue, a couple of her supporters have been made an offer they almost certainly can refuse.

Wolverhampton MPs Pat McFadden and Emma Reynolds both nominated the shadow care minister.

The two prominent players on the green benches, one shadow Europe minister and one shadow communities secretary, find themselves not exactly relishing the prospect of a Corbyn victory.

Step forward Gavin Williamson, the affable and always smiling Tory MP for South Staffordshire.

"I'd be very willing to extend an olive branch to Pat and Emma if they ever wanted to join the Conservative party," he said.

I'd imagine there's more likelihood of the MPs paying the £9.99 to join the Official Monster Raving Loony Party than take up that offer but it's always nice to be invited.

Lichfield Conservative MP Michael Fabricant was sacked as a party vice chairman for his outspoken opposition to high-speed rail.

But Jeremy Corbyn has questioned it as well and if he wins the Labour leadership and changes direction on HS2, it could upset the cross party consensus.

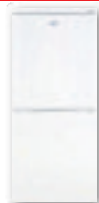

Mr Fabricant had pondered throwing in £3 to sign up as a Labour supporter and vote for Mr Corbyn.

Although with Labour having been on the look out for 'entryists', such a prominent Tory would have surely rung a few alarm bells.

Police launch crackdown on speed menace

SPEEDING is a crime and it's not a trivial offence – that's the message to drivers from Staffordshire Police as part of a special road safety campaign being staged this week.

By David Banner

Speed Awareness Week, which runs until Sunday, is alerting motorists to the fact that the difference of a few miles per hour can mean the difference between life and death.

Insp Mat Derrick, part of Staffordshire Police's tactical support team for roads, said: "If you speed you will get caught out sooner or later – either by speed enforcement or by a collision.

"Consider having to live with the emotional consequences of causing injuries or deaths to others due to driving at excessive speed, or your family getting a visit from the police with very unwelcome news."

Over the last 10 years, more than 10,000 people have been killed as a result of road traffic collisions on UK roads. It is estimated that speeding is a factor in one third of all crashes resulting in death.

Breaking the speed limit or driving too fast for the road conditions contributes to more than 700 deaths and nearly 5,000 injuries every year. "There is no such thing as 'safe speeding'," Mr Derrick added.

"Speed limits are there for a reason, and it's a speed limit not a target. The speed limit is the absolute maximum, and it doesn't mean it's safe to drive at this speed all the time."

Fun park comes bouncing into town

A giant slide is an attraction at the inflatable theme park

Minnie Mouse and Olaf keep young visitors entertained

HUNDREDS of children will be bouncing for joy at an inflatable theme park in Cannock.

Fantastic Inflatable World is putting on the show in Longford Park, where it will be until August 27.

Its boss Scott Gwinnett is keeping his fingers crossed that the weather is kind for the impressive inflatable display, which ranges from massive slides and ring rides to bouncing castles and paddling pools.

There are also cartoon characters mingling with the visitors along with football, basketball and paintball games together with face painting.

Mr Gwinnett said: "It is the first time in this country that anybody has put on a show like this.

"After the entrance fee all the rides are free. The aim is to give a family a whole day out for around £20.

"It is a calculated gamble and the weather will play a part in deciding if it is to be a winner.

Last month, the show was in Wolverhampton, where it won the approval of many parents.

Gavin Warrington, 34, was there with wife Emma and children Key, 12,

Uncovered – earl display celebrates female form

HE snapped one of the most iconic images of the 1960s – Marsha Hunt in all her Afro glory posing naked to promote the musical Hair.

Now the photograph features in an exhibition of the late Lord Lichfield's nude shots just launched at his ancestral home at Shugborough.

The display covers three decades of his shots of nudes, including images for the world-famous Unipart calendar, which he created, as well as classical studies of the naked form.

The Marsha Hunt photograph, taken in 1968, is featured alongside a much later image he took of the actress in an identical pose.

Shugborough's area co-ordinator Brett Harrison said: "There's a good mixture of his nude work, including some great late-night shots taken in Russia for the Unipart calendar.

Stylish

"All the images are stunning and demonstrate how he worked with light and landscape to achieve a style that was uniquely his."

The stylish earl was best known for his studio portraits of attractive women for glossy magazines, advertisements and calendars, as well as regular royal and celebrity commissions. He travelled wildly, capturing on film naked models in the most famous cities in the world. Other calendar shots in the exhibition were taken on location in Cuba and the Nevada desert in the 1990s.

The flamboyant photographer moved in showbusiness circles, and a permanent exhibition of his work at the house includes shots of Princess Anne, Sixties supermodel Jean Shrimpton and rock veteran Mick Jagger. A cousin of the Queen, his most famous assignment was the wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana Spencer in 1981. He died in 2005 aged 66 after suffering a stroke.

Mark Winnington, cabinet member for economy at Staffordshire County Council, which manages the estate, said: "Shugborough has always had connections with royalty and the stars, and this collection very much captures Lord Lichfield's work from the 60s to the 90s. Shugborough is a real jewel in the crown for us here in Staffordshire. While perhaps one of the more risqué exhibitions, the collection is just one of the many things to see at the estate."

The exhibition, on display in the former cinema room in his 35-room private apartments, runs until September 7.

Claimant total falls to a further record low

THE number of people in Staffordshire claiming job seeker's allowance has fallen to a new record low for the second month running.

Latest figures show there were 4,650 claimants in Staffordshire in July - the lowest number since 1993.

The number of JSA claimants in Staffordshire has fallen by 2,629 year on year, from 1.4 per cent to 0.9 per cent of the county's population. Philip Atkins, leader of Staffordshire County Council, said: "This is a remarkable, sustained achievement and vindication of our focus on building and diversifying the county's economic strength."

"This authority is not resting on its laurels, but actively promoting the county at home and abroad as a place for businesses to thrive and prosper, delivering superfast broadband across the county, supporting rural businesses and working with schools and colleges to take advantage of good jobs close to home."

Investment

Already home to established global names such as JCB, Jaguar Land Rover and Alstom, around £100 million of investment has been attracted to the region in recent years as part of the authority's work to diversify the economy.

One typical investment has been at the £10m Redhill Business Park in Stafford, which itself was developed by the county council. The site is rapidly nearing full occupancy - Alstom has already taken two large units there and it was announced last month that Birmingham-based Trebor Developments, working with US firm Rockspring, has now submitted a detailed planning application for a speculative 113,500 sq ft industrial development.

Councillor Atkins added: "With such low unemployment in the county, we are concentrating on providing the foundations for delivering more, better-paid jobs to Staffordshire, so residents can live prosperous, happier, healthier lives."

Janis celebrates 42 years

Bridget Foden, Janis Dixon and Anya Torikka at the presentation

BURNTWOOD Leisure Centre has rewarded Janis Dixon for being a member for 42 years.

Fitness instructors Bridget Foden and Anya Torikka presented Janis Dixon with flowers and a certificate to celebrate her many years as a member of the centre.

Janis Dixon, who is from Burntwood, has seen many changes over the years, with the rebuilding of the centre in 2002, but has always remained a member. Bridget said:

"It's an amazing achievement to have been a member of the leisure centre for so long."

"It's inspiring that Janis is still making fitness an important part of her life."

"A big well done from the whole team at Burntwood Leisure Centre."

"To find out more about the activities at Burntwood Leisure Centre, visit www.lichfielddc.gov.uk/blec or call 01543 308810."

Stunning meteor shower seen on Chase

METEORS shooting through the night sky were captured by a photographer over Cannock Chase. Dozens of stargazers gathered at the beauty spot to see nature in all its glory during the annual Perseids meteor shower.

John Kennett, aged 40, had one of the best views in the country, with clear skies across the region last Wednesday. This beautiful image was taken above Birches Valley Forest Centre in Rugeley. Mr Kennett, a father-of-five, was joined by his family and around 30 other people at the spot with crowds gathering from 9.30pm until after midnight.

The professional wedding photographer has been taking pictures for around seven years but this image was his first attempt at snapping stars.

He said: "It was simply amazing to watch."

Club bowled over by grant

YOUNGSTERS can now learn the basics in crown green bowling after a Great Wyrley sports club was given a four-figure grant.

Harrisons Sports and Social Club, which is based in Wharwell Lane has received £1,000 from the Staffordshire Police and Crime Commissioner People Power Fund to teach and coach children and young people the sport's basics. The fund allows groups and organisations to apply for grants of between £100 and £3,000 to benefit the community.

The free sessions will be run by qualified coach Tony Partridge and take place on Saturdays from 10am to midday.

They will continue until September 15.

Trevor Lowbridge, from the club, said: "This is seen as a senior persons sport but it is far from that when you get involved."

"One six-year old who will be attending has already played in a bowling match, so there are lots of opportunities for children and young people to participate following the coaching sessions."

"Children from any age up to 18 years are welcome to come along and enjoy learning a new sport." For details call Trevor on 07801 236481.

A day of fun for pets and owners

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

STAFF at a veterinary practice in Cannock are inviting dog owners to join them for a fun day with their pets this weekend.

Melbourne Veterinary Centre at 60 Hednesford Street will be staging its Sunday Funday on Sunday between midday and 4pm.

"Come and join us for a fun day with your pooch," says reception manager Emma Degg.

"We will be having displays from the Lichfield & District Dog Training Society and Staffordshire Police."

"We will also have a pet photographer on the day who is able to do portraits of you and your loved pet," Emma adds.

Choice

"She will be able to print photos and keyrings to take away with you."

The event will also feature a fun dog show, which will include categories such as Scruffiest Mutt, Waggiest Tail, Golden Oldie, Young Handler and Fancy Dress.

"There will be a registration table on the day, when you are able to enter into the category of your choice," Emma says.

"Every dog that is entered will receive a goodie bag plus there are prizes for first, second and third place."

"If all that fun makes you hungry and thirsty, then why not visit our BBQ and refreshments hut."

"We look forward to seeing you and your furry friend."

Staff at Melbourne Veterinary Centre look forward to the fun day

For younger visitors, there will be face painting and a bouncy castle.

The centre itself is fully equipped with radiography (x-rays), ultrasound, a large surgical suite, on-site laboratory for blood testing, urinalysis and cytology, endoscopes, dentistry, tonometry, separate cat and dog wards with full isolation facilities.

The centre has ample parking.

Dozens head out on campaign Trail

More than 60 people walked the Cannock Chase Heritage Trail from Cannock to Rugeley at the weekend

CANNOCK Chase Green Party was joined by friends and supporters from Staffordshire and beyond as well as across the political divide to walk the Cannock Chase Heritage Trail at the weekend.

The aim of the event on Sunday was to celebrate the region's countryside and raise awareness of the 38 Degrees petition 'Save our Countryside and AONB, which now has more than 10,000 names.

Local party co-ordinator Paul Woodhead said: "It was fantastic to walk through our beautiful countryside in the company of a great group of people from diverse backgrounds across the county and beyond to demonstrate our opposition to county plans which could see our countryside privatised. Staffordshire County Council are considering options to change the management or ownership of up to 6,000 acres of our countryside across 18 locations in the county including beloved areas including Cannock Chase."

"The next stage of the process is the county scrutiny committee meeting on Friday, September 4, which is a meeting in public, and we would encourage everyone to attend and build upon the campaign."

More than 60 people walked the route from Cannock to Rugeley. The petition is at <https://you.38degrees.org.uk/petitions/save-staffordshire-countryside-aonb>

£25m bill for treatment

MORE than £25 million was spent treating people with drug and alcohol problems in the Black Country and Staffordshire over the last year.

It has gone up by nearly £1m on the previous 12 months as services struggle to cope with rising numbers of patients. There are fears the falling price of alcohol is causing more binge drinking, with booze-related hospital admissions rocketing. Some £9.38m was shelled out in Staffordshire, compared with £4.68m in Wolverhampton, £3.89m in Sandwell, £3.87m in Walsall and £3.58m in Dudley.

However, health chiefs insist that paying for treatment saves money in the long run. A total of £2.58m went on drug and alcohol services for young people in all areas except Wolverhampton, where that cost was part of the overall £4.65m that also goes on community and adult services. Health chiefs admit the issue needs to be tackled as services come under greater pressure from budget cuts.

The amount spent rose by £986,000 in Dudley in 2014-15 and £1.03m in Sandwell, but fell by nearly £10,000 in Walsall, £866,000 in Wolverhampton and £200,000 in Staffordshire.

It comes weeks after it emerged the number of people being admitted to hospital for alcohol-related problems in the Black Country was higher than the national average.

Oceanic sets sale with new premises

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

OCEANIC Bathrooms Ltd, which was established in Birmingham 2011, has now expanded to open a second new showroom in West Bromwich.

It is a contemporary company with a fresh approach, aiming to offer customers the best quality of products at the most competitive prices.

It thrives on providing the best products, best service and best price, resulting in complete customer satisfaction. Such expertise and attention to detail means customers can be assured of peace of mind when making their purchase.

An Oceanic spokesman said: "We are an independent bathroom company and are unique in nature. We do not have huge grand showrooms and we keep our supply chain to a minimum."

"This simply means that we do not have the vast costs of running and maintaining these expensive showrooms which many bathroom companies have and need to sustain, therefore eliminating most of the overhead costs which result in amazing savings for you!"

"We also sell directly to you, many bathroom companies sell to wholesalers, who sell to retailers and then sell to you, so you can easily see why costs increase along the supply chain."

"However by buying and sourcing in bulk directly from the factories we can transfer these savings to you whilst keeping with the high standard

Inside the Oceanic Bathrooms showroom, where customer satisfaction is key of products we endeavour to provide. This strategy helps us achieve our aim in providing you with the most competitive prices and quality has not been compromised.

"We have friendly staff with great knowledge to assist with your purchases. There is a flexible delivery service available and we guarantee you will receive the best quality products at amazingly low prices."

"We also offer a professional, trustworthy, good value installation service on request reducing the hassle of seeking your own. All our fitters are professionally qualified and are ready at hand should you want your bathroom items installed immediately."

"You can discuss things with our staff at anytime, where we will then arrange for one of our fitters to carry out an assessment and offer you a free competitive no obligation quote."

Oceanic prides itself on its professional and efficient fitters, and there are always enough on hand to meet demand, with a one year workmanship warranty offered every time which means any leaks or faults found within the year will be repaired free of charge.

Celebrating 20 years of V in style

Returning heroes Kasabian are ready to rock the V stage at Weston Park for the 20 anniversary festival

THE V Festival is pulling out all the stops for its 20th year anniversary.

More than 150,000 music lovers will head to the festival's two sites at Staffordshire's Weston Park and Chelmsford's Highlands Park, where a host of musical heavyweights will be celebrating the festival's second decade in style this weekend.

Global platinum-selling artist Calvin Harris and popular festival rockers Kasabian are top of the bill.

The line-up also includes Sam Smith, Paloma Faith, Ellie Goulding, The Script, Hozier, George Ezra, Olly Murs, James Bay, Stereophonics, Clean Bandit, Sir Tom Jones, Nero, Jessie Ware, Sigma, and Ella Eyre.

They will line up with a host of other star names across four stages.

The popular Glee Club Comedy Tent is returning with top acts including Russell Kane, Frankie Boyle, Seann Walsh and Matt Richardson.

The festival's northern site was originally in Leeds but moved to Weston Park, near Albrighton, in 1999 when Stereophonics also featured, alongside headlining fellow Welsh rockers Manic Street Preachers and soul legend James Brown.

Festival director Simon Moran said: "It is incredible to think what V has achieved in two decades."

'It's packed with great songs'

All Shook Up over Elvis

NEW musical Love Me Tender was created by the producers of Hairspray, Jersey Boys and West Side Story and is a feel-good show featuring Elvis Presley's greatest hits.

Starring 1980s pop star Mica Paris and former EastEnders Shaun Williamson, the story is set in small town 1950s America, where a guitar-playing, hip-swivelling stranger rides in on his motorbike and gets the locals All Shook Up.

Is he The Devil in Disguise or could he be headed for Heartbreak Hotel, but for Natalie, the love-struck, tomboy mechanic, it really is Now or Never.

Packed with 25 of the best loved songs by The King himself, Love Me Tender, is a funny and moving tale of hope and the healing qualities of rock 'n' roll.

Mica Paris says: "I think the thing I loved about Love Me Tender was the story. It's really clever. The story is not about Elvis, particularly. It's more of a comedy. It's all about young love, unrequited love and mature love."

"The story is what made me fall for it. Sylvia my character is so me, it's me with an American accent. It's almost like the people were thinking of me when they wrote it."

The music must also have been a draw? "Oh yeah, for sure. It's packed with great songs. Elvis was a gospel guy in the beginning and it works for me. The minute I started singing the soundtrack, it sounded perfect. It felt great."

Love Me Tender will be staged at Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre from Monday to Saturday, August 24 to 29.

Black Country rock band's debut ready

HOTLY-TIPPED Black Country rockers EofE have announced details of their first album.

The Dudley band will release their self-titled debut on October 9 through Cream Records following a year of relentless touring.

The release comes off the back of the group's performance at Download Festival earlier this year and will feature all of their singles released to date.

EofE have toured with Glamour Of The Kill and supported McBusted at the LG Arena.

Fronted by singer Tom Harris, the band's sound has been described as thunderous stadium rock with addictive pop melodies. For more information see www.eofe.com website.

Keep eyes open for The Fratellis

GLASWEGIAN trio The Fratellis, are back and heading to Birmingham's O2 Academy tonight (Thursday) to launch their new album Eyes Wide, Tongue Tied.

The band is looking forward to showcasing its latest material. Frontman Jon Fratelli said: "We had a record out two years ago, so it does not feel like we have been away that long. We are looking forward to going out and playing the songs."

Eyes Wide, Tongue Tied, the band's first since third studio album We Need Medicine in 2013, was completed in two weeks with high energy tracks similar to hits Chelsea Dagger and Whistle For The Choir.

Bolan tribute born to boogie at Robin

NEXT month marks what would have been glam rock star Marc Bolan's 68th birthday, and also the 38th anniversary of his death in a car crash, aged 29.

The corkscrew-haired frontman of T Rex has become a 70s icon and the timeless quality of his good time boogie music continues to win new fans.

Tribute band T Rextasy, led by Bolan devotee Danielz, have now been gigging longer than the original T Rex. They return to the Robin 2 in Bilston on Saturday, August 29.

Tickets cost £13 in advance or £15 on the door. See www.theobin.co.uk or call 01902 401211.

There is always time for a spot of sightseeing in the capital

Youngsters can enjoy photographs with Shrek

Paul's hotel of choice – the luxurious Conrad London St James

The Star Wars attraction at Madame Tussauds, London

Capital gain for families thanks to a range of great attractions

MY daughter Rachel, 14, and son Matthew, 12, had never been to the 'big smoke', so when the opportunity arose to spend some quality time in Londinium, they were thrilled.

Travelling by train is, in my opinion, the best option. Book online early and you can save a small fortune, reserving a seat in the process – an absolute must with regular trains from the likes of Wolverhampton, Birmingham, Shrewsbury and Telford.

Catching the train at Wolverhampton, we arrived at Euston station within two hours and transferred to St James's Park Tube Station directly opposite our hotel – the stunning five-star Conrad London St James.

Sitting on the doorstep of Westminster, Big Ben and Buckingham Palace, not only does it have a prime location, but also comes with chic design and wonderful service.

Visitors can enjoy a distinctive, locally sourced selection of culinary delights at the Blue Boar restaurant. And then there is the elegant Emmeline's Lounge, ideal for afternoon tea.

There is complimentary WiFi and Nespresso machines in every room and, as we were executive floor guests, complimentary breakfast and other treats throughout the day. Rachel and Matthew had never seen anything quite like it.

In around five minutes, we had walked past Westminster Abbey, Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament, crossing Westminster Bridge with the London Eye prominent in view. The South Bank is vibrant, with tourists enjoying a bite to eat with a fabulous vista. Many, like us, were there to see pre-booked attractions. First on the list, The London Dungeon.

Even Matthew, who can be a little hesitant with such scary stuff, thought it was great fun. Rachel particularly enjoyed the 'public lynching' we endured at the end. A short walk and we were at our next venue. Sea Life London Aquarium is home to one of Europe's largest collections of marine life from around the globe.

New for 2015, Sea Dragon Kingdom has some of the ocean's most weird and wonderful fish and intrepid adventurers can follow a fun Lego-based trail with a free deep sea explorer activity pack, helping to find missing equipment hidden amongst the sharks, starfish and shoals of bright tropical fish.

Towards the end of the attraction, I enjoyed the history of London unfolding in the new Thames Walk. Our final visit of the day was to the all-new Shrek's Adventure London. Based on the popular Dreamworks animated characters from the Shrek movies, plus Kung Fu Panda and Madagascar, it combines a brilliant 4D bus ride/flight to the kingdom of Far, Far Away and a walking tour of the fantasy land.

On returning to London from the fairytale kingdom, visitors can have photos with Shrek and friends before exiting through a shop laden with 'Shrekastic' goodies.

The summer evening allowed us plenty of opportunity for further sightseeing, including a stop off at Nelson's Column and Buckingham Palace. We returned to the Conrad, ready to take on our next day's fun outing to Madame Tussauds.

I recommend going to London with your children and experience for yourself the range of great attractions. You might knock a few years off your own age in doing so.

Whatever the occasion, we'll make it that extra bit special...

Katie and guests hit all the right notes

Apparently, just as a performance is about to begin, acclaimed British double bassist Chi-Chi Nwanoku feels as if she's taking her marks at the starting blocks on an athletics track.

Then, when the conductor's baton comes down, Nwanoku is straight out of the blocks, working towards the finishing line.

Actually, this admission from the London-based musician of Nigerian and Irish descent isn't that surprising, because from the age of eight, Chi-Chi was destined for an international career as a 100-metre sprinter.

At 16, she narrowly missed qualifying for the 1972 Munich Olympics, and two years later was on track for the next Games in Montreal.

Then disaster struck – a knee injury meant that she could never again compete at a national level. Devastated, she returned to school, and thankfully discovered that fate had something positive in store for her – music.

Nowadays, Nwanoku is established as principal bass with the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment, as well as being a chamber-music performer and professor of double-bass studies at London's Trinity College of Music.

She is also the host of a weekly requests programme on BBC Radio 3 and was a jury member of BBC2's Classical Star.

Tonight, she joins Katie Derham for this week's jam-packed edition of weekly magazine show Proms Extra.

The pair will be joined by baritone Roderick Williams, who may be feeling a little sleepy after performing Bach's much-loved Magnificat, Mass in G minor and Brandenburg Concerto No. 2 alongside the BBC Singers and the Academy of Ancient Music during last night's Late Night Prom at the Royal Albert Hall.

Williams will also be looking forward to his next Proms appearance on September 11 when he is taking to the stage alongside conductor Sir Simon Rattle and the Vienna Philharmonic to sing part of Elgar's intoxicating The Dream of Gerontius.

Among the other Proms highlights up for discussion tonight are Bach's solo violin works, which were performed so memorably by violinist Alina Ibragimova at the end of July.

Katie, Chi-Chi and Roderick also look back on the National Youth Orchestra's annual visit to the Proms a fortnight ago where they focused on Mahler's bitterly beautiful Ninth Symphony.

Their concert also opened with the world premiere of Tansy Davies's Re-greening, a celebration of spring written specially as a complement to Mahler's aforementioned work.

Finally, there is footage and discussion of Daniel Barenboim's West-Eastern Divan Orchestra, who performed at the Albert Hall on Tuesday in a concert that was broadcast last night on BBC4.

Barenboim took to the piano to play a trio of challenging pieces – Beethoven's Triple Concerto, Schoenberg's Chamber Symphony and Tchaikovsky's Fourth Symphony.

And if all that wasn't enough, David Owen Norris once again gets 'Inside the Score' – delving deeper into the some of the music heard at the 121st season of the Proms.

Katie Derham features in Proms Extra 2015, Saturday, BBC2, 7pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY
Travel Guides
ITV, 9pm
The tourists stay closer to home as they sample what the Lake District has to offer. The Boyles from Dorset are amazed by the jaw-dropping scenery, but soon question if a small caravan is enough to accommodate their lively brood of kids, while a trip to Keswick pencil museum does nothing to convince Honor Chapman-Blackwell and her boyfriend Jonjo of the area's charms. Simon and Jayne Brearley face a battle persuading son Ben of the pleasures of hiking up a hill, while a trip to a local climbing centre nearly spells disaster for model Riah. Last in the series.

Muslim Drag Queens
Channel 4, 10pm
Ian McKellen narrates this First Cut documentary providing unprecedented insight into the UK's clandestine gay Asian community, which provides a vital lifeline and haven for young men who are unable to publicly reconcile their sexuality with their cultural identity and traditions. The film focuses on the stories of three of the 100 to 150 Muslim drag queens who face the seemingly insurmountable challenge of gaining acceptance and tolerance within their own communities.

TUESDAY
New Tricks
BBC1, 9pm
Ted leads an investigation into the apparent suicide of a city trader who was embroiled in the cut-throat world of London's financial district in the 1980s. As the team delve deeper into the macho fraternity of 'The Wolfpack', they find a darker side to the debauchery, secret hand signals and all-nighters that bonded the traders together - including a strict hierarchy that might be worth killing for. Meanwhile, Steve tries to learn some tricks of the trade, amid his own financial crisis.

WEDNESDAY
Witnesses
Channel 4, 10pm
Kaz Gorbier is now in police custody, seemingly removing the immediate threat, but the mystery of who has been placing the exhumed bodies in various show-homes remains unsolved. Paul and Sandra push their abilities to the limit as they work to achieve closure, and as their investigation draws closer to its conclusion, dark secrets from Le TrEport's past begin to resurface - with devastating consequences.

THURSDAY
Stephen Fry's Central America
ITV, 9pm

It's seven years since Stephen Fry embarked on an epic trip to each of the USA's 50 states for the BBC. Frankly, it was a bit of a rushed job, with some destinations appearing for just a few moments each. Hopefully, this tour will be a little more in-depth. This time, as the title has already revealed to you, he is sampling the delights available south of the border, beginning with a trip to Mexico. Stephen starts on the Sante Bridge, which separates El Paso in Texas from Ciudad Juarez, an important transit point for drug cartels - and a place regarded as one of Mexico's most dangerous cities. En route to Chihuahua, he meets some of the area's cowboys.

FRIDAY
Ripper Street
BBC1, 9pm
Long Susan has convinced the world her solicitor Capshaw shot Reid and was solely responsible for the train crash, and while the inspector remains in a coma Drake and Jackson struggle to cope. Meanwhile, a destructive gang of youths unleashes hell upon the streets by night, murdering a pub landlord. The trail leads detectives into the heartland of one of the city's oldest trades - the London Breweries - where conflicted loyalties reign and grief and anger create a potent concoction.

BBQ Champ
ITV, 9pm
Mylene Klass turns up the heat as the competition reaches its mouth-watering finale, and you have to hand it to her - it must have taken a phenomenal amount of effort to remain so slim while being surrounded by a seemingly endless array of tasty treats. She faces temptation one last time tonight, as the four remaining contestants pull out all the stops in the battle to be crowned BBQ Champ 2015, and take home a cash prize of £25,000.

Teenagers join in annual clean-up of Chase graves

TEENAGERS from Germany and Staffordshire have worked together to tidy up war graves on Cannock Chase. Twenty eight youngsters, with representatives from the Royal British Legion, spent a morning cleaning and tidying the graves at the German Military Cemetery.

The annual clean-up, which has been running since 1962, formed the start of two weeks of commemorations between the German War Graves Commission and Staffordshire County Council. During the two weeks, youngsters are taking part in different activities including an outing to the National Memorial Arboretum in Alrewas.

They are also visiting Coventry Cathedral, RAF Cosford, the Trentham Estate, and Alton Towers.

The youngsters, all aged 16 and 17, are using the commemorations and activities to improve their language skills, build new friendships, learn more about the history of the world wars and be involved in projects that concentrate on the theme of peace and reconciliation. The German Military Cemetery on Cannock Chase is the only German cemetery in the country and lies next to the Commonwealth graves.

Opportunity

County Councillor Mark Sutton, responsible for health and social care, said: "Young people have been visiting Staffordshire from Germany to help tend the military graves for over 50 years now as part of this unique friendship."

"The exchange visit gives the teenagers the opportunity to make new friends, share experiences, and learn from each other, while remembering those who lost their lives in the two world wars."

"It's important that young people maintain these friendships, learn from the past and work together to build a better future."

A key part of the two weeks includes a poignant wreath laying ceremony at the German Military Cemetery today.

The German Military Cemetery is located close to Brocton.

Teenagers from the Staffordshire Council of Voluntary Youth Services (SCVYS) also helped to clean up the graves by cutting back foliage and removing any dirt

Abi Lockwood, left, aged 17, of Swadlincote and Lucy Dickson, 18, of Hednesford and marks. Phil Pusey, chief executive of SCVYS, said: "This is our first year organising the two-week friendship camp from the Staffordshire side."

"Staff have worked really hard, planning an exciting programme for our guests, as well as recruiting a full cohort of young people from Staffordshire. The positive impact for those involved will stay with them for the rest of their lives."

Torrential rain leads to flooding

HEAVY rain led to floods in Penkridge, and an HGV tanker had to be used to pump the water away.

Highways officers from the county council went out to Pinfold Lane on Friday morning. After the water was pumped away, work was carried out to clean the area.

Roads boss Councillor Mark Deaville said:

"There was some localised flooding due to the volume of rain we have experienced overnight and throughout the morning."

"Our highways crews have been on hand to respond to calls, assess the problem and ensure and everything is done to remove flood water, clean the area and keep the county moving."

Picanto is pitched perfectly

It's not uncommon to assess a vehicle and wonder why it has been launched.

Some manufacturers get their product design cycles out of phase with economic conditions, while others launch into a once fashionable market that's gone cold. Then there are those that arrive plum square with the right product at the right time and the second generation Kia Picanto citycar is most definitely one of the latter.

No model in this class has a sniff of a chance unless it can guarantee tiny day-to-day running costs and the Picanto certainly answers that particular call.

Both engines have been designed to offer maximum efficiency, from their continuously variable valve timing to their low-friction valve springs. The net result is that the 1.0-litre unit emits just 99g/km of carbon dioxide in standard trim. Kia goes one stage further with its suite of EcoDynamics technologies (automatic stop-start - ISG, advanced alternator control, upgraded starter motor and low-rolling resistance tyres), cutting emissions even further - to between 95 and 102 g/km. Combined fuel economy for the 1.0-litre model teamed with the EcoDynamics gear is 67.3mpg.

Priced between £8,145 and £12,595, the Picanto doesn't do anything that's particularly fresh or radical but its blend of affordability coupled with solid engineering, impressive build quality, generous equipment and clean styling build upon its tiny ongoing running costs to form a convincing buying proposition. Back that up with a great warranty and the Kia Picanto emerges as one of the very best citycars we've seen in quite some time.

● The all-New Kia Sorento has ambition.

'The UK range hinges around a 197bhp 2.2-litre turbodiesel engine and a great deal of work has gone into improving refinement'

What started life as a budget-priced larger 4x4 has been fettled and polished into something far more refined. This third generation model looks to have the finish and engineering to put the frighteners on the SUV-class high fliers.

The UK range hinges around a 197bhp 2.2-litre turbodiesel engine and a great deal of work has gone into improving refinement, with a torsionally stiffer body-shell, additional soundproofing, acoustic shields built into the engine bay, and a thicker dashboard. Depending on speed, ambient noise within the cabin is claimed to be between three and six per cent quieter than the previous car. The suspension and steering systems have also been comprehensively reworked.

There's a stack of room inside there though, with five- or seven-seat models offered. There's greater legroom throughout. Cargo space also increases, and capacity with the third row seats folded flat is up 17.5 per cent, from 515 to 605-litres. Prices start somewhere in the region of £27,000 which is still excellent value for money. The Sorento looks a good deal more expensive than it is and even in a notoriously badge-conscious sector it would appear to be just too much of a bargain to overlook.

XC60 is a class leader

Think you know this car – Volvo's XC60? Think again. Yes, it's still a premium badge compact SUV that competes with cars like Audi's Q5 and BMW's X3.

Yes, it's still super-safe and solidly built. Yes, you can still get it with the Ford-derived 2.4-litre diesel engines. Beyond this point though, this car can now offer quite a different proposition.

Yes, it's more smartly styled these days – particularly at the front where there's a much sleeker look. But the important stuff lies beneath the bonnet.

The 2WD entry-level D4 diesel model that almost all buyers choose now offers what for the time being is the most sophisticated and efficient engine in its segment. It's a 2.0-litre unit – Volvo's own – powered by what the brand calls 'Drive-E' technology which delivers the unlikely-sounding combination of an 8.1 second 0-62mph capability and 62.8mpg combined cycle fuel economy. There's nothing in the class that can match that.

Add in a smart cabin with lots of equipment and the latest Sensus infotainment gadgetry and you've a thoroughly rejuvenated product with all the most recent styling changes comprising a redesigned front featuring a re-sculpted bonnet.

The Swedish company has made a concerted effort to remove any black trim pieces from the exterior to create a more upmarket, cohesive look. Priced between £31,660 and £39,890 on the road, the XC60 also benefits from an interior upgrade. There are now better quality wood inlays, a plusher headlining, textile B-pillars and there are also some very well finished silk metal frames around the air vents and light controls.

Less is most definitely not more when it comes to the second generation Volvo XC90. Bigger, bolder and more technologically advanced than ever, it's a long way removed from its low-key predecessor.

The interior is beautifully finished, overall quality extremely impressive and the focus is on downsized, efficient engines.

The flagship engine is the 320PS T6 petrol, which utilises both turbo and supercharging, while most British customers will inevitably walk straight past that to look instead at the 225PS D5 twin turbodiesel. Both engines drive all four wheels via the almost obligatory eight-speed automatic transmission.

The other option is the T8 Twin Engine petrol/electric plug-in hybrid model, billed as 'the world's most powerful and cleanest SUV.' This delivers a combined 412PS output, with a thumping 640Nm of torque. And 62mph from rest is dispatched in just 5.6 seconds, yet this car can also give you 26 miles of pure electric driving range when fully charged.

Whatever you think of Volvo's latest design direction, it's hard to ignore. The XC90 has a very big face. Even the 'iron mark' grille badge has been updated, while the headlamps now get T-shaped 'Thor's Hammer' daytime running lights.

The interior is even more boldly-styled, with a massive tablet-like touch screen control console helping to create an interior that is modern, spacious and uncluttered. This genuine seven-seater features innovatively designed seats that also free up interior space for passengers in both the second and third seat rows. Even the third row can seat adults up to 170cm tall.

Priced between £45,750 and £63,705 on the road, the XC90 is likely to gain conquest sales from the likes of Audi, BMW and Mercedes.

It'll bring more car buyers to the brand, buyers who may not have thought of purchasing a Volvo before.

An elite band will travel in comfort

By Ian Donaldson

Forget the Ferrari, banish the Bentley; if you want to stand out from the crowd you need the new Volvo S60 Cross Country. It's going to be a very rare sight indeed on British roads.

Volvo reckons it will sell only 100 of these gently toughened saloons here each year, while explaining they will be much more popular in India and South America.

They're both areas of the world where a saloon car shape is seen as prestigious; here in the UK we favour the practicality of a hatchback or estate and buy fewer booted saloons. Volvo meets part of that market by offering the new Cross Country as an V60 estate alongside the S60 saloon and expects to sell 850 of them in a year, rendering it a still rare sight but not in the hen's teeth way of the saloon.

Both sit near the pinnacle of a broad S/V60 range that starts at £21,005 for the S60 with 2.0-litre petrol power (the V60 estate is another £1,200) and are aimed at owners who want a car that stands out from the crowd, while offering a little more country lane ability.

That latter attribute comes from suspension that pushes the Cross Country versions 65mm higher above the road (or grassy field) than standard cars and should help if you live along a bumpy, rutted lane.

That's the only genuinely useful upgrade for the 'active lifestyle' sort of buyer so beloved of car companies these days. The alloy looking skid plates under front and rear bumpers are styling touches only, helping onlookers tell the car apart from non-Cross Country versions if they've not already clocked its unique design of alloy wheels, black radiator grille or modest plastic wheelarch extensions.

Opt for the most expensive car in the S60 range, the £36,525 AWD Geartronic Cross Country Lux Nav, and you gain all-wheel drive and automatic gearbox, although the engine is an older 2400cc five-cylinder unit that produces notably poorer economy and emissions figures than the car tested here.

It makes the same 187bhp as the newer 2.0 litre engine in the test car but with a little more low-speed pulling power and the benefit of auto gears if you're happy to pay at the pumps for an easier life.

Single

The S60 Cross Country D4 Manual Lux NavTug tested here comes in a single specification at £33,695 (hardly worth the bother to offer more with predicted sales so tiny) but it's a pretty luxurious take on country living.

Standard kit includes leather upholstery, satellite navigation, 18in alloy wheels, headlight washers, climate control, cruise control, auto dimming interior mirror and rear centre armrest with storage and cupholders. Surprisingly, heated front seats are extra, as part of an optional £675 winter pack. Another £150 buys a slimline spare wheel in place of a can of gloop.

Slipping into the driver's seat of the S60 Cross Country brings you face to face with a dashboard that looks a lot like those you'll find in most other current Volvos – and that's a good thing. It means the instruments are big and easy to read, and the switches for everything from heating to adjusting the radio are bold and obvious.

Then you start up and move off, surprised to find a manual gearchange in a car that seems posh enough to take the auto route. But it's an easy change to use and the engine is responsive enough to let you hang on to higher gears around town. It will also help on the economy front.

My brief drive showed a respectable 41mpg on the trip computer (67.3mpg is the official, but always optimistic average) after a journey that gave no space to test the car's 130mph top speed or sprint to 62mph in 7.7 seconds.

What was tested on some poor Cotswolds roads was a ride that delighted with the way it soaked up the bumps and constant little surface irritations. So the modest band of S60 Cross Country owners are going to reach their weekend holiday cottage in some comfort.

Honda's revised Jazz and new HR-V

Honda's got a lot to look at for new registration and two of the latest in the pack are the new HR-V and revised Jazz.

The all-new Jazz builds on the strong reputation of its highly successful predecessors. The newcomer retains the classic Jazz silhouette yet has distinctive contemporary styling, including a powerful new face and strong character lines.

A new platform increases overall length by 95 mm, but highly efficient packaging means that the latest Jazz is proportionally even bigger on the inside than the previous generation model. Occupants will benefit from both boot space and passenger space that are unrivalled in the class. The all-new Jazz offers exceptional versatility, retaining Honda's highly practical Magic Seat system which allows for numerous cargo configurations.

Specifications are generous across the range, with base-grade S models fitted as standard with convenience features such as air conditioning, cruise control with speed limiter and dusk sensing auto lights. Every grade comes with Honda's City-Brake Active to help avoid low-speed accidents.

The mid-grade SE model, priced from £14,595, adds front and rear parking sensors, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors and 15" alloy wheels. Honda's Driver Assistance Safety Pack is also included, giving owners the extra reassurance of five advanced active safety aids.

Those opting for the top-grade EX model (from £15,715) will appreciate smart entry and start, automatic climate control and six-speaker audio upgrade. Styling is enhanced with 16-inch alloy wheels and front fog lamps.

Access

Customers opting for the SE or EX models will also benefit from the Honda Connect in-car infotainment system as standard. This Android-based system features an app-based 'pinch, swipe and tap' interface accessed on a seven-inch touchscreen in the centre of the dash.

Honda Connect comes with pre-installed apps, with others available for download from the Honda App Centre. These give rapid access to internet-based services such as web browsing, real-time traffic information, news and weather, social media, and internet music stations.

A new, highly efficient, highly responsive 1.3 litre i-VTEC petrol engine from Honda's Earth Dreams Technology series delivers 102 PS at 6,000 rpm. This power unit delivers the sprightly driving performance of the previous Jazz's 1.4 litre engine, together with fuel economy equivalent to its 1.2 litre. Combined with either a six-speed manual gearbox or a newly developed CVT, emissions are as low as 106 g/km of CO2. The CVT's driveability is given a more natural 'multi-gear' feel through the use of new control software exclusive to Europe which simulates seven speeds and provides optimised gear change mapping.

The subcompact hatchback will be priced from £13,495 on-the-road for the entry-level S model.

The new Honda HR-V subcompact crossover will be priced from £17,995 on-the-road for the entry-level S grade petrol model, rising to £24,945 for the flagship EX diesel.

The all-new HR-V blends characterful coupé looks merged with the tough, solid stance of a robust SUV. Inside, occupants will find class-leading boot space. Thanks to innovative packaging, the HR-V's has exceptional versatility incorporating Honda's highly practical Magic Seats system, allowing for numerous loading configurations.

Buyers opting for the base-grade S model are well catered for, with convenience features such as climate control, cruise control and dusk-sensing automatic headlamps fitted as standard.

The mid-grade SE model adds a range of premium features, including rain sensing wipers, front and rear parking sensors and a six-speaker audio upgrade. A 'Smart Touch' interior includes touch panel controls for the climate control.

The top-grade EX model gets a full leather interior, smart entry and start, and rear-view camera. The sense of HR-V's spaciousness is amplified with the unique-in-class, tilt-and-slide opening panoramic glass sunroof.

Customers opting for the SE or EX models will also benefit from the Honda Connect in-car infotainment system as standard. This Android-based system features an app-based 'pinch, swipe and tap' interface accessed on a seven-inch touchscreen in the centre of the dash.

Honda Connect comes with pre-installed apps, with others available for download. These give rapid access to internet-based services such as web browsing, real-time traffic information, news and weather, social media, and internet music stations. Integrated Garmin navigation is standard on EX and an option on SE models. Every HR-V in Europe will have City-Brake Active System as standard. SE or EX models will feature Honda's Advanced Driver Assist System.

There's a choice of all-new 130 PS 1.5 litre i-VTEC petrol and 120 PS 1.6 litre i-DTEC diesel engines. Combined with either a six-speed manual gearbox or a newly developed CVT (for petrol models only), emissions are as low as 104 g/km of CO2.

Test drive new Mazda MX-5

Motorists in the Wolverhampton area could be among the first in the UK to drive the hotly-anticipated all-new Mazda MX-5 sports car at a special test drive launch event during the weekend of August 28-30 at Brindley Mazda on Stafford Road.

Having previewed the all-new Mazda MX-5 for a select group of customers in July, Brindley Mazda is now offering customers the chance to experience the iconic roadster from behind the wheel for the first time.

Looking forward to the test drive launch weekend event, David Gutteridge, dealer principal at Brindley Mazda said: "We can't wait to get customers out on the road in the all-new Mazda MX-5 as we know that the car's spirited drive and clever engineering are sure to put a smile on everyone's face. We're celebrating the launch with some special finance offers, so we expect to see lots of happy customers before the weekend is out!"

Even before its public launch, the new car was named 'Roadster of the Year' by motoring magazine Auto Express in its annual New Car Awards with the magazine praising its modern safety and superb efficiency.

The all-new Mazda MX-5 is a true roadster boasting sports-focused rear-wheel drive, perfect 50:50 weight distribution, superior power-to-weight ratio and a low centre of gravity that boosts driving fun. Also, the new car features Mazda's award-winning SKYACTIV technology that strips-out weight across every area of the vehicle and utilises ultra-efficient lightweight petrol engines to deliver new levels of performance and economy.

Customers driving the new car over the test-drive weekend will appreciate the thrilling driving dynamics, improved level of comfort and standard features such as alloy wheels, LED headlights and a leather-wrapped steering wheel. Those specifying the range topping 160ps Sport model benefit from additional features such as a Premium Bose sound system, DAB radio, cruise control, 7" Colour touch-screen display, rear parking sensors, heated leather seat trim and sports suspension featuring Bilstein dampers.

Priced from £18,495, Brindley is offering a host of competitive finance offers until 30 September 2015 to give customers complete flexibility. The all-new Mazda MX-5 is available with either 0% APR* Representative finance on Mazda Conditional Sale up to 36-months (with a 50% deposit), 5.9% APR** Representative finance on Mazda Conditional Sale with zero deposit up to 60-months or 5.9% APR** Representative finance on Mazda Personal Contract Purchase with zero deposit up to 42-months.

For more information about the Brindley all-new Mazda MX-5 VIP test drive launch weekend event, visit the Stafford Road showroom, or go to www.brindleymazda.co.uk or call 01902 313152.

New Corsa is looking fit to set the pace

Priced between £9,265 and £22,405 the fourth-generation Vauxhall Corsa delivers similar dimensions as the old car but that's as far as the similarities go. With a fresh chassis and suspension and a three-cylinder petrol engine that takes star billing, it also gets a classier interior. It's beginning to give the Ford Fiesta a really tough time.

Straight away, you'll spot similarities to the front end of the ADAM model and that's no coincidence, this looking set to become the Vauxhall family face for the foreseeable future. That means a rounded, friendly look with a broader front grille. Drop inside and you'll see even bigger improvements. A driver control centre takes pride of place within the instrument panel, which is themed around horizontal lines. The fourth-generation Corsa is also the first high-volume Vauxhall to be available with IntelliLink, the communications system which has already been seen in the ADAM.

The 1.0-litre three-cylinder petrol engine makes some pretty impressive numbers, recording 54.7mpg on the combined cycle. The 75 and 95PS versions of the 1.3-litre CDTi diesel both come with fuel-saving start/stop technology fitted as standard. The former will reduce the three-door model's CO2 emissions down to 85g/km and fuel consumption is clocked at 87.8mpg in the combined cycle.

The Corsa has long been a stalwart in this sector, but time and technology had overtaken the MK3 version. This fourth-generation car looks to have the talent to dive right back into the fray.

At first, it looks like a substantial restyle, but it's much more than that. Here's a car that's been designed from a clean sheet of paper, with an enormous development budget behind it. Available in both petrol and diesel guises, manual or auto, with three doors or five, the Corsa is off to a fantastic start.

Fun

● Small crossovers should be fun and fashionable but that doesn't mean they can't also be versatile, capable and practical too. Like Vauxhall's little Mokka? Here's the face of this changing brand and it's one you'll find yourself liking.

Priced between £16,474 and £24,594, this Mokka sets its own course amongst small crossovers. Though super-mini-based like rivals, it's nearly as big inside as a family hatch-style crossover. But whatever your thoughts about this car's size, you'll probably agree that the way it looks will go a long way towards selling it. It's cute and individualistic without being wilfully outlandish.

If, having considered all of this, you decide that it's a Mokka that you want, you'll be pleased to find that whichever of the five-door models you choose – 1.6-litre petrol 2WD or 1.4-litre petrol turbo or 1.6-litre 130PS CDTi diesel in 2WD or 4WD configuration – it'll come well equipped.

As for luggage room, there's no high boot lip to negotiate and beyond it lies 356 litres of carriage space – about the same as you'd get in a MINI Countryman but 30 per cent more than you'd get in a Nissan Juke. At the wheel, the interior isn't overly adventurous, but this car's more conservative vibe might just mean it mops up sales from people left a bit cold by the sheer extravagance of some rivals.

Look clearly at what you actually get for what you actually pay and the Mokka makes fashionable sense. With styling and size almost perfectly pitched, it's practical, well equipped, affordable to run and, in 4x4 form, seasonally capable too. A car with an appeal that builds as your interest in it grows. The kind of car Vauxhall needs to make for a more fashionable future.

11. If you do not want any of your response to be published you should clearly mark it as “Confidential” in the “subject” of the email or at the top of your letter. However please note the following two paragraphs.
12. If you want the information you provide to be treated as confidential, you should be aware that all information provided in response to this consultation, including personal information, may be subject to disclosure in accordance with access to information regimes (these are primarily the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004). Under the FOIA, there is a statutory Code of Practice with which public authorities must comply and which deals, amongst other things, with confidentiality obligations. In view of this it would be helpful if you could explain in your response why you regard the information you have provided as confidential. If a request for disclosure of the information you provide is received full account will be taken of your explanation, but no assurance can be given that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances. An automatic confidentiality disclaimer generated by your IT system will not, of itself, be regarded as binding on the Department for Transport or HS2 Ltd.
13. Please note that all responses received, whether marked Confidential or not, will be passed on in full to the Houses of Parliament and their appointed Assessor, who will analyse the responses and make a report to Parliament. That report will not contain your personal data.

Squad is stronger now, says club chief

CHIEF EXECUTIVE Stefan Gamble believes Walsall have begun this season with a stronger squad than the previous campaign.

The Saddlers' chief thinks the relative low turnover of players this summer is a sign of how far the club has progressed during the four-and-a-half year tenure of manager Dean Smith.

To this point, Smith has brought in just three new signings after releasing four and seeing keeper Richard O'Donnell leave on a free transfer to Wigan.

Speaking at a fans' focus meeting held at the Banks's Stadium earlier this week, Gamble confirmed funds are available for Smith to strengthen the squad further before the transfer window closes at the end of the month.

He said: "In my opinion, the squad is slightly stronger than it was 12 months ago.

"We have have had a very small turnover in players.

"There are funds available before the end of the window if he wants to spend.

"From a board's perspective, and from the manager's as well, there is no point in signing players just for the sake of it. There is no point in buying players who are not going to improve on the ones we have got."

Smith has confirmed he wants to bring in at least a couple of new signings before the end of the month.

Walsall's tie at Morecambe in the first round of this year's Johnstone's Paint Trophy competition will take place on Tuesday, September 1, kick-off 7.45pm.

Capital Cup draw dates for home clashes

WOLVES, Albion and Walsall will play their Capital One Cup second-round ties on Tuesday, August 25. The Wolves and Walsall games will kick-off at 7.45pm.

Albion's home clash with Port Vale will be an 8pm kick-off.

The full draw is: VILLA v Notts City, WALSALL v Brighton, Palace v Shrewsbury, Sheff Wed v Oxford, Portsmouth v Reading, Hartlepool v Bournemouth, Fulham v Sheff Utd, MK Dons v Cardiff, Hull v Rochdale, Sunderland v Exeter, Bury v Leicester, Doncaster v Ipswich, Rotherham v Norwich, Swansea v York, QPR v Carlisle, Barnsley v Everton, Peterborough v Charlton, BLUES v Gillingham, Newcastle v Northampton, ALBION v Port Vale, WOLVES v Barnet, Burton v Middlesbrough, Luton v Stoke, Preston v Watford.

Cannock dominate for victory

Cannock 1sts 43 Rugeley 1sts 12

EARLY on in the game Cannock dominated possession in a trend which would occupy the majority of the game.

Cannock spent the majority of the first 20 minutes camped in Rugeley's 22.

Only a kicked penalty from Scott Pedley separated the teams 20 minutes in.

Against the run of play, it was Rugeley who first crossed the line.

A mishap from a scrum five metres out from Cannock's try line saw a loose ball spilled open and quickly pounced on by Rugeley. The conversion made it 7-3.

Cannock's reply came in the form of a driving maul from a line out finished by Captain Jon Freeman.

Shortly after Jon Freeman crossed over for his second of the day, Will Jukes finished off perhaps the highlight of the day.

Jukes side stepped and outpaced the full back before dotting down under the posts.

Soon after Richards crossed the line.

Some quick counter play from Rugeley from a wayward pass saw them quickly cross over the line for their second of the day.

However, Cannock replied from the restart, where a free ball was gathered by Freeman who quickly crossed the line for his third of the day. The last play saw nifty handling from the Cannock forwards find the tenacious Brooke's dot over for a well-deserved try. Converted by the ever reliable Scott Pedley.

Cannock 2nds and 3rds 48 Rugeley 26

A kick and chase from fly half and Vice-Captain Dan Clarke and a more than fortunate bounce led to a simple run in under the posts and conversion.

Rugeley took advantage of some lapse defending and levelled the scores.

A crashing run from Phil "Timmy" Painting, pure pace from Caine Smalling and an unselfish pass led to a try for Donk Jukes in the corner.

Bateman the real hero for Scholars

Chasetown 1 Kidsgrove 1
CHASETOWN goalkeeper John Bateman was the hero with a string of fine saves to keep revitalised Kidsgrove Athletic at bay in what turned out as a draw.

Twice, Bateman denied Grove midfielder Will Bailey and former Scholars winger Jordan Johnson to keep his Scholars side in the match.

Chasetown took the lead midway through the half through striker Paul Sullivan. The player unleashed a shot from outside the area which gave Kidsgrove goalkeeper Ben Chapman no chance.

However, within a minute Athletic were back on level terms with an equally-stunning Johnson effort that also flew beyond Bateman from outside the box giving him no chance of stopping the shot.

It was again Sullivan who also hit the outside of the Kidsgrove post with another effort on goal, while Francino Francis thought he had headed Chasetown the winning goal from a Lee Butler corner, but the effort was just inches wide and the Scholars had to be content with a draw.

Leek Town 0 Chasetown 1

Before the Scholars' clash at home with Kidsgrove, Chasetown kicked off the Evo-Stik Division One South season with a win over their Staffordshire rivals in what was an entertaining game.

Both sides had chances in the first half and Scholars' keeper John Bateman had to be at his best to push away an effort from Tim Grice which looked like it would have been a goal had it not been for the efforts of the Scholars' keeper.

The visitors twice went close to breaking the deadlock when Marc Strzyzewski headed off the line from Paul Sullivan and then threw himself in front of the rebound off Lee Butler.

The Scholars scored what proved to be the winning goal in 57 minutes. Butler's dangerous cross from a corner was headed across goal by man of the match Francino Francis and Nathan Waite netted with an acrobatic overhead kick beat the defenders on the line.

Former Leek defender Rhys Thompson almost doubled the lead for his new club but Chris Martin flicked the ball over the crossbar.

Don't even think about trying to buy Afobe

BENIK AFOBE is not for sale, Kenny Jackett has reaffirmed, as the Wolves boss looks to build a team around his star player.

Afobe has picked up where he left off last year, scoring two in Wolves' first two games, following on from being the joint-top scorer in the country last year with 32.

The 22-year-old joined from Arsenal for £2million last January.

And Jackett said any bids for the player would not be welcomed.

"It's not something we're thinking about," he said.

"Does it happen when you have good young players? Yes it does, we're naive enough to think that it doesn't happen and even last year there was quite a lot of speculation about him.

"Building a good, young, successful team here is our aim and moving on our best players isn't something we're working towards."

With Danny Bath, Richard Stearman and David Edwards not in the team that beat Newport County 2-1 on Tuesday, Afobe was made captain for the first time in his career.

He has been utilised in a deeper role so far this season, playing off Nouha Dicko and linking play with the midfield.

It's a role Jackett said would make Afobe 'continually' involved.

"My aim for him is to keep him involved continually because he does need to be central and focal to what we do and get on the ball as many times as he can in a game," the Wolves boss said.

"As long as he can still get into the striking area and it doesn't take him out of the main area which wins games."

Gabby tips Rudy to be Villa legend

GABRIEL AGBONLAHOR reckons Rudy Gesteade has the makings of a Villa cult hero after comparing the new boy to John Carew.

The club captain has described Gesteade, a £6million summer signing from Blackburn, as his "dream strike partner".

And he claims the powerful striker, who scored on his Villa debut at Bournemouth, is similar in stature to former Holte End favourite Carew.

The Norwegian international netted 52 times in four-and-a-half years at Villa Park.

Agbonlahor said: "Rudy reminds me of John Carew with his presence.

"I don't think there are many defenders that are going to be able to jump with him. He's that good. He's probably the best I've seen."

The Lockmen leave it until injury time

Bromyard Town 1 Willenhall Town 2
THE Lockmen returned from Herefordshire with their unbeaten record intact but the Willenhall side left it until injury-time to grab the winner in the West Midlands Premier.

Willenhall were caught cold inside 15 seconds when their hosts raced forward from kick-off and Dorian Colling headed beyond James Wilson to Matt Dobson to bundle home, but fortunately for the Lockmen he was ruled offside by the officials.

Bromyard's Colling headed wide on seven minutes before he eventually broke the deadlock on 10 minutes when a long ball forward was flicked on and he ran through to coolly plant the ball in the net.

Mikey Clark threatened twice and Kieran Robinson was just too high with a shot before Willenhall levelled on 32 minutes.

Ryan Ward began the move and threaded a clever pass through the defence for Clark to run onto and finish into the corner.

There was controversy as the referee blew for half-time as a Bromyard player fired the ball goalwards, the subsequent score again not being allowed to stand for the home side.

Craig Stevens saw a shot blocked from Ward's set-up before Ward fired just over on 59 minutes but there was late drama.

Clark was then just off target as was Alex Carlin before the late drama gave Willenhall maximum points.

With three of the allotted four minutes stoppage-time already played, Clark made a dazzling run, leaving three men behind him, and his pull-back found Stevens inside the six-yard box to fire a deserved winner.

Heath Hayes lose the match through two late scores

Heath Hayes 0 Lichfield FC 2
HEATH Hayes lost out to two late goals against Lichfield when both teams would have been happy with a point each in an entertaining game.

The game was sealed with eight minutes left when the ref awarded Lichfield a penalty which was put away by Clarke. Clarke also sealed to scoreline with two minutes left.

(FA Cup) Alvechurch 3 Heath Hayes 0
A young Heath Hayes side made their exit from the FA Cup when they were beaten by highly-rated premier side Alvechurch.

Hayes got off to a very controversial start when after only seven minutes when a foul on Mark Wiggins in the Hayes goal was deemed a penalty.

The penalty was dispatched by Leigh Downing.

Despite this setback Hayes still did well against a more experienced and mature Alvechurch side but conceded again to a well-worked goal, finished off by Nigel Penny.

A third goal was conceded two minutes after the break when a strong run by Turton lead to March's crisp finish.

Cannock settle for winning draw

Cannock 1sts 289 for 5 Springvale 1sts 171- 9
Winning draw Cannock

IN a match totally dominated by the home side, hosts Cannock had to settle for 18 points and the winning draw over Springvale.

Batting first Cannock amassed 289-5 and then declared with Wes Marshal putting up 181 and Zac Shingler 54.

Cannock now had 55 overs to take all 10 Springvale wickets but ran out of time with the visitors nine wickets down at the close.

For Cannock there was good playing from Phil Highway took three for 16 and there were two wickets each for Ed Fleet and Connor Shingler.

Cannock 2nds 170-2 Walsall YPF 169
Cannock won by eight wickets

Cannock travelled to Walsall YPF and came away with a comfortable eight wickets victory.

After winning the toss Cannock chose to field and bowled YPF out for 169 with Paul Martin taking 4-18 and Dan Wood 2-48.

In reply Cannock reached their target in the 39th over with Mike Chadderton 54no and Jon Best 49no taking them over the line.

Cannock 3rds 141
West Brom Dartmouth 4ths 145-6
WBD won by 4 wickets

Cannock slipped to defeat with a disappointing performance at home to West Bromwich Dartmouth.

Batting first Cannock scored just 141 with Martin Davies top scoring with an unbeaten 50.

In the field Cannock fared even worse dropping a succession of simple catches as West Brom reached their target with 2 overs to go.

For Cannock Jamie Fleet took 2 for 48.

Khalsa put on five-star performance

Malvern Town 0 Sporting Khalsa 5
A five-star performance by Sporting Khalsa helped them ease past Malvern Town in a one-sided FA Cup extra preliminary round tie.

The match highlights were three stunning strikes which would grace any FA Cup Final, let alone the first round of matches in the competition.

Khalsa dominated from the outset and the home side only had a single effort deep into the second half to show for their day.

Skipper Lee Wherton was forced from the field with an injury.

But his replacement, Khalsa's top scorer last season Craig Bannister, was to play a decisive part in the performance.

Bannister forced a brilliant save from Charles Weaver on 26 minutes, the keeper tipping over a long-range volley, before four minutes later the same player curled a magnificent shot in from the edge of the area to open the scoring.

Dave Meese doubled the lead six minutes later, slotting home after brilliant work down the right by Mensah Kinch. Just before half time Kinch controlled the ball on his chest 25 yards out with his back to goal and rifled a low shot into the bottom right-hand corner.

Tes Robinson made it four on 58 minutes, heading home from close range after a Meese flick on from a Jackson corner.

Malvern's first effort on goal came on 73 minutes, an ambitious lob by substitute Matt Turner.

Perhaps the best of the five goals came as Bannister racing from the half way line on the break and ignoring shouts to hold up the ball by calmly chipped over Weaver and into the back of the net.

Ikeme called up for international role

WOLVES goalkeeper Carl Ikeme has been called up to the Nigeria squad for the first time.

The 29-year-old has been named in manager Sunday Oliseh's squad for the Afcon qualifier against Tanzania on September 3.

Ikeme - whose father was born in Nigeria - was surprisingly dropped by Kenny Jackett for the home game against Hull on Sunday.

He recently spoke of his international ambitions and will now compete with Nigeria captain Vincent Enyeama for a place. "My father was born there and a lot of my family are still in Nigeria so it would mean something to my whole family," Ikeme said last month.

SIX-GOAL SAGA FOR PITMEN

Hednesford Town 3 Corby Town 3
HEDNESFORD TOWN were forced to settle for a point from a pulsating encounter which swung one way then the other against Corby Town.

The Pitmen started very much on the front foot and went 1-0 up inside two minutes as Curtis Tilt headed home a corner.

They doubled their lead in the 10th minute when Kyle Perry nodded down to Tyrone Williams, who blasted home from 15 yards out.

Hednesford were well on top and should have been well out of sight in the first half with Ahmed Obeng and Andy Todd being denied by the visiting keeper, and Perry heading over the bar.

Right on the stroke of half-time the home side lost their skipper when Ben Bailey was forced off with concussion and this proved to be the difference as the Hednesford back line failed to organise themselves as Kabongo Tshimango fired home after 48 minutes.

Five minutes later, it was 2-2 as a mix-up at the back led to the ball finding its way to Tshimango, and the striker completed a 10-minute hat-trick as he found acres of room before finishing low under Dave Parton.

The Pitmen rallied and were level after 62 minutes when Obeng saw his overheard kick saved, but Nathan Modest stooped to head home.

The final 30 minutes saw an end-to-end affair, but despite a number of chances neither side could find a winner.

HHarrogate 2 Hednesford 1

Hednesford Town were left ruing a goal two minutes into stoppage time as a hard-earned point was snatched away from them in the cruellest fashion by Harrogate.

The visitors started brightly and Ahmed Obeng had the first half-chance of the game as he fired high into the side netting after just three minutes.

Two minutes later Dave Parton was forced into a simple save after Dominic Knowles found some space in the Hednesford box.

The lively Obeng forced another chance after 14 minutes as he rounded goalkeeper Peter Crook and found Kyle Perry but the striker was unable to control his shot as defenders got back to smother him out.

Hednesford felt they should have had a penalty after 23 minutes when Ben Bailey was tripped inside the box, but a corner kick was awarded instead.

In the 28th minute Parton was forced into another save, this time from Paul Thirlwell before Tom Thorley's curling effort was stopped by Crook in the home goal.

Three minutes before the break Brandon Daniels' free-kick was blocked by the wall and Parton reacted well to deny Knowles on the follow-up.

It was only a temporary reprieve though as

Daniels rifled home into the bottom corner of the net from 30 yards second later to give the home side the lead.

Like Tuesday evening Hednesford picked up the tempo once again in the second period and after a number of corners they finally found a leveller.

Just after the hour mark Paul Ennis did well in getting to the bye-line and his cross was only cleared as far as Andy Todd who struck a sweet volley into the far corner of the goal.

When it looked as if both sides would be taking a point from the game the Pitmen were dealt a sucker punch in the 92nd minute.
